WARR UNFOLDS A WEIRD TALE

SOUGHT RAISE FOR ELECTRIC WORKMEN

Strapped to a Cot, Crank Begs Los Angeles Police to Shoot Him.

Los Angeles, Nov. 20.—Strapped to a cot in the receiving hospital, Carl Warr, the German patternmaker who took possession of the central police station by threatening to destroy the building with an infernal machine unless Paul Shoup, jr., of the Pacific Electric company, was brought to him, told a weird tale today.

"I did not want to hurt anyone about the police station," declared Warr. "All I was after was the head of the Pacific Electric. I did not even know his name was Paul Shoup until after I was arrested. I did not even want to hurt him. I was only going to show him my machine and tell him I was going to blow him up unless he raised the wages of his workmen and otherwise improved their condition.

"I believed the best way to get him to promise to do what I wanted him to do was to go to the police station and get the officers to co-operate with me in order to save their own lives. They were fools to try to capture me. If they had been killed it would have been no fault of mine. You can't call that murder.

Don't Want Idea Stolen.

"The machine is my own invention. I never heard of one like it. I don't want a description of the thing to get in the newspapers for fear others will steal my idea. One of the finest features of the machine is that instead of pulling the trigger to set the machine off one has to hold the three triggers to keep it from going off."

Warr ended his story by begging to be shot. He is believed to have received a fracture of the skull from the blows dealt him by Detective James Hosick. Chief Sebastian issued a statement commending Detectives Hosick, Fitzgerald and Browne for their bravery in attacking Warr and rushing his infernal machine outside of the police station when it was believed such an attack meant death.

Enough to Blow Up a Block.

Armed with an infernal machine containing enough dynamite to destroy an entire city block, a bottle of nitroglycerine and a 45-caliber revolver, Marr took possession of the central police station yesterday and held it for more than an hour while hundreds of occupants of that building and of buildings for blocks around ran away panic-stricken.

ASSERTS WOMAN'S STORY IS FALSE

Miss Farley Says She Did Not Tell Detective About Her Case.

UNDER A CROSSFIRE

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 20.—Prosecuting Attorney Edward C. Turner today began a cross-examination of Miss Cecelia Farley, the state house stenographer, who is on trial for first degree murder for the shooting of Alvin Zollinger last spring after the witness had testified that she did not know who pulled the trigger of the revolver which shot Zollinger.

In a voice firmer and louder than she used yesterday, the witness emphatically denied that she had told Miss Pearl Clark, alias Mrs. Pearl Belden, a woman detective of Cleveland, about her case. She declared that some of the detective's testimony was "not true" and had been taken from newspaper stories and that the remainder of it had been secured by eavesdropping from the next ceel in the county jail while Miss Farley was talking with her mother of her relations with Mr. Zollinger and Mr. Quigley, the man whom she was to marry. Miss Farley stated that she had "confessed" at police headquarters on the day of the tragedy for the purpose of saving her fiance, whom she was told by the police was believed to be implicated in the shooting.

Her Admission to Police.

Shortly after Miss Farley and Quigley were arrested for the shooting, Miss Farley told Chief Carter that she shot Zollinger. Early in the trial the defense attempted to prove that she made this confession under pressure when she was led to believe that Quigley, whom she was engaged to marry, was likely to be held for the shooting. A woman detective from Cleveland testified that Miss Farley told her, while in jail, that she made the confession to protect Quigley. Yesterday Miss Farley testified that the shooting was accidental.

The test of Miss Farley's story is expected to come today when she is submitted to a gruelling cross-examination by Prosecutor Turner. The state will endeavor to entangle her, the only witness to the shooting, concerning details.

HEATED DEBATE IN CONVENTION

Labor Federation Deeply Stirred by Industrial Issue.

UPROAR IS FREQUENT

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 20.—With the first big fight of the American Federation of Labor convention, that against the Sherman anti-trust law, temporarily disposed of, the convention today took up the subject of the organization of the federation by industries rather than by trades.

The debate is expected to bring about a sharp division between the radical and conservative wings of the convention. The federation has always been unalterably opposed to industrial unionism, but this year the radical faction has forced a fight on the convention floor.

Conservatives, headed by President Gompers say that the adoption of the industrial plan would be only a step toward changing the federation into another political party. As the debate on the question progressed it became at times disorderly. Hisses and groans often interrupted the speakers.

Frank J. Hayes, of Indiana, representing the United Mine Workers, spoke in favor of the minority report and was seconded in his remarks by John Walker and John Mitchell, both of the Miners' organization. John P. Eagan, of Toledo, made an attack upon industrial unionism which brought a dozen delegates to their feet in noisy dissent. As Eagan progressed in his remarks, which brought applause and hisses alike, John Walker arose and demanded the right to reply. Gompers called him to order but, refusing to comply, Walker stalked across the floor and started a personal argument with Eagan. Walker was finally forced into his seat at President Gompers' orders.

Uncle Sam Swoops Down on Alleged Improper Use of Mails.

ARRESTS MADE IN SCORES OF CITIES

One Fort Wayne Man is Among Number Facing Government Charge.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Acting under direction of Postmaster General Hitchcock, postoffice inspectors and United States marshals in seventy-two leading cities of the country began today practically simultaneous raids for the arrest of 173 persons charged with using the mails to promote the criminal medical practice or the sale of drugs and instruments used for illegal purposes.

The number of arrests to be made in the respective cities follows:

New York, 2; Buffalo, 3; Pittsburg, 7; Indianapolis, 5; Chicago, 9; St. Paul, 5; Fort Worth, 4; St. Louis, 3; Omaha, 4; Oklahoma City, 5; Portland, Ore., 9; Denver, 5; Seattle, 8; Spokane, 5; San Francisco, 7; Oakland, Cal., 8; Los Angeles, 3; San Jose, 3; Mobile, 3; Marietta, O., 3; Dallas, 3. Two each in Albany, Washington, Memphis, Birmingham, Cleveland, Steubenville, O.; Duluth, Winona, Minn.; San Antonio, Houston, New Orleans, Kansas City, Topeka, Alameda, Cal.

One each in Atlanta, Cincinnati, Toledo, Minneapolis, Galveston, Sale Lake City, Elmira, N. Y.; East Orange, N. J.; Lancaster, Pa., and Pine Bank, Pa.; Cumberland, Md.; Charleston and Columbia, S. The arrests are made for misuse of the mails, each case being based on the use of the mails to solicit business or dispose of wares.

Covers Whole Country.

This concerted official action covered the United States from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the lakes to the gulf. Many of the persons to be arrested are prominent, commercially and socially, in their communities. Some are leading physicians; others are rich and influential business men; yet others are men who live by their wits and comparatively little known without their own small coterie of associates, and one is a Chinaman who is alleged to have practiced his calling upon women of his own race and upon those of

LARGE CLASSES TAKE THE RITE

Ronald Dawson Will Preside Over Scotish Rite Banquet

HELD THIS EVENING

Darius Council, Princes of Jerusalem, conferred degrees upon a class of ninety-two members this morning at the second session of the annual fall convocation of the Scottish Rite of the Valley of Fort Wayne. The seventeenth and eighteenth degrees of the Emanuel chapter of Rose Croix were conferred this afternoon upon a class of more than one hundred members.

The convocation, which opened Tuesday morning, is being well attended. At this time, however, only three thirty-third degree Masons from out of the city are present. This is due to the fact that the Indianapolis convocation is also in session this week. The thirty-third degree men present, are R. L. DePuy, of Wabash; W. F. McLallen, of Columbia City, and J. L. McCulloch, of Marion.

The annual convocation banquet will be spread this evening at 6 o'clock in the dining hall of the Scottish Rite cathedral. Ronald Dawson will preside as toastmaster, and an interesting program of addresses will be delivered. At the close of the banquet the work of the Fort Wayne Consistory will be begun.

MEANEST MAN STEALS HANDLES FROM COFFIN.

Connersville, Ind., Nov. 20.—The mean man of proverb, who stole the pennies from the eyes of the dead, had nothing on a Connersville man, who stole the handles from a coffin. The funeral of Mrs. Frank M. Wheeler was held in the evening and the coffin was taken to a depot early the next morning for removal to New Burlington, Ohio. At the station it was discovered some one had stolen the six bronze handles in night.

The pedigrees of the men were taken today at their arraignment.

VIGOROUS STEPS TO QUELL RIOTS

Troops Push Crusade in West Virginia Mining Districts.

MANY AWAIT TRIAL

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 20.—Vigorous action was taken today by the military to clear away some of the most troublesome spots in the Kanawha coal field, where martial law prevails. Soldiers were sent throughout the district to arrest known offenders, continuing the campaign inaugurated yesterday.

The most important expedition was sent to Montgomery, where last night a man named McCoy was murderously assaulted. Montgomery has been one of the most troublesome spots, a dozen or more men having made it their headquarters. Trains have been stopped, passengers questioned and those who could not give an account satisfactory to the band have been ordered out of the country. Similar bands have been operating in different parts of the district.

More than fifty men are held by the military authorities at Paint Creek Junction, General Elliott's headquarters, awaiting trial by the military court, which resumed its work this morning. In the neighborhood of 200 strike breakers appeared in Charleston today, having been induced to leave the coal country by striking miners and their sympathizers. The men were without funds and many of them were begging in the streets. They were recruited in New York and Chicago for work in the mines.

Eye-Witness Saw Gibson Clutch Woman by Throat

Goshen, N. Y., Nov. 20.—"I saw Gibson seize Mrs. Szabo around the neck with his left arm; I saw his right hand thrust at her throat; then they both fell out of the boat."

John Minturn, eye-witness of the death of Mrs. Rosa Szabo, for whose death on Greenwood lake, Burton W. Gibson, of New York, her lawyer, is charged with murder, so testified at Gibson's trial today. His testimony was introduced to bear out the state's contention that Mrs. Szabo was strangled by Gibson, and did not die of drowning.

"Gibson and his companion were standing back to back in the center of the boat," Minturn said. "Gibson wheeled as they were passing and seized Mrs. Szabo—they struggled for a moment, the boat rocking. They fell out, the woman first, the man afterward.

"When they were in the water presently the woman was lost to sight. The man then swam over to the boat, put his arm over it and turned it over. The boat remained right side up when they fell out and stayed that way until Gibson tipped it over."

The boat was about 700 yards away. He was afraid he would forget, he added, so he went home and wrote down what he saw.

OFFICER GODFREY IN NARROW ESCAPE

BULLET GRAZES ARM

Patrolman John Godfrey came near being the victim of a frightened man's bullet early this morning while on his beat in the east side. While he was trying the door of the fruit store owned by Herman J. Hamilton, at 511 East Jefferson street, a bullet came crashing through the door and grazed his right arm. Hamilton, who fired the shot, explained to the officer that he shot because he mistook him for a burglar seeking to gain an entrance to the store.

The police had received a call last night that some suspicious characters had been hanging around near the fruit store. Officer Godfrey investigated, but when he arrived everything was serene and peaceful. He patrolled the rest of his beat, but returned near the store shortly after 3 o'clock to make his report to headquarters. He tried the door of the fruit store again, and it was at this time that he narrowly escaped being "pinked."

BATTLE OVER A RAILROAD TRAIN

Mexican Rural Guards and Rebels in a Sharp Skirmish.

SIX DEAD AS RESULT

Mexico City, Nov. 20.—A fight yesterday between rural guards and rebels for the control of a railroad train cost the lives of a lieutenant and three rural guards and two civilian passengers in the vicinity of Penjamo, state of Guanajuato.

The train, traveling along the Guadalajara branch of the Mexican Central railroad, ran into a bridge from which the rails had been removed, and the engine and two cars fell through. A large force of rebels then ran confidently

In Fargo

Grabbed him from behind.

"DELL" FITCH told the story concerning some local land seekers who were members of a party which went to North Dakota a short time ago to view the landscape with the idea of getting some of it recorded under their own names in the court house of the county in which it is located.

"I wasn't along," said Dell, "but the story as it came back to me was like this: The party had reached Fargo all right, and, as it was quite late in the evening and it would be necessary to board a train early in the morning, the men thought it would be best to spend the rest of the night in the railway station instead of going to the hotel. However, the agent informed the party that the station would have to be locked for several hours during the night and that the waiting room would have to be vacated. But he became convinced that the party was composed of honest Hoosier farmers who would not molest the place if allowed to stay there, so he went out, locked the door on the outside and walked away, not to return until near the time of the arrival of the morning train.

"Well, one of the men became desperately hungry an hour or so later and, without waking up his sleeping companions, he lifted one of the windows quietly and walked up the business street to the first all-night lunch counter. After satisfying his inner self, he strolled back to the depot and lifted the window and was crawling in again when someone grabbed him from behind. Looking around he beheld a policeman.

"'Come along with me,' demanded the officer, and before the astonished farmer had time to explain the bluecoat had pushed him a rod or two toward the lockup. Finally, however, the officer consented to listen to his story. It didn't sound good to him. Nevertheless, he decided to let the passage of time tell whether or not the window-lifter was telling the truth; so, instead of locking him up, he compelled the prisoner to accompany him on the rounds of his beat. Of course, when they got back to the depot later, everything was cleared up. But they say that our farmer friend was the scaredest man in North Dakota for a considerable period that morning."

THE TWELVE MEN WHO HAVE THE BIGGEST JURY JOB IN AMERICA —ALL OF THEM ARE RURAL FOLKS.

Here are the jurymen in the big dynamiting case at Indianapolis, involving 46 labor leaders, which has been in progress since Oct. 1. They are on their way to dinner, guarded by the bailiffs.

Eight of these jurors are farmers, two are retired farmers, one is a grocer and one a grain dealer, all residing in country towns or rural district in Indiana. It took just 13 hours to secure this jury. By Judge Anderson's orders they are being kept under guard until their verdict is rendered.

URGE CANAL TO CONNECT LAKES

AT A CLUB MEETING

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 20.—S. A. Thompson, editor of the National Waterways Magazine, of Washington, and G. Bie Ravndal, consul general of the United States to Turkey, spoke before the Knife and Fork club of South Bend last night. The former advocated the building of the Erie-Michigan canal from Chicago to Toledo and the latter spoke of trade conditions between the United States and Turkey.

Mr. Thompson presented facts to show the effect that the Erie-Michigan canal would have on the cities through which it would pass.

"If I could really make you understand that cheap transportation lies at the very foundation of developments and prosperity, this prosperous, growing city and other communities in its vicinity would issue their own bonds and build their own canal if they can not get it done by the government.

"The subject of transportation is far more important from the standpoint of dollars and cents than the tariff. The total revenue of the United States railroads in the year 1902 were sufficient to have paid the total expenses of the national government, of the government of every state and territory in the country, and of every county, township and school district in the nation. Indeed, they would have sufficient to pay all these and leave a surplus of more than $179,000,000. This amount represents the amount paid out to the railroads and does not include that expended on horse transportation, trolley transportation, express transportation or any of the various other forms."

Mr. Ravndal deplored the lack of an American merchant marine. He said: "During the fourteen years I have been in the Levant I have never seen the American flag flying from any save pleasure craft and warships." For the purpose of acquainting Americans with the new markets in the near east, Mr. Ravndal advocated a commercial excursion to the countries of the Levant.

DIES DURING A LODGE CEREMONY

DUE TO EXCITEMENT

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 20.—The authorities are investigating the death of Zadock Troxell Offner, son of Isaac H. Offner, member of the school board of Keyser, W. Va., which occurred during the initiation of the young man into the Loyal Order of Moose at Westernport, this county, five miles west of Keyser, late Monday night.

The death of the young man, it was said, occurred suddenly during some "horse play" in the initiation when an electric battery was used. The candidate was in the process of being "branded" on the chest when he expired from excitement. He is said to have had a weak heart.

State's Attorney Frank A. Perdew, who returned last evening from Westernport, where he looked into the case, said there were no marks on Offner's body to indicate he was "electrocuted," as was first reported.

The machine used to produce the electric current contained a dry battery and the shock was caused by turning a little crank. This produced a sensation that might be terrifying to a hoodwinked candidate, but in reality caused no physical harm. He said from what he could glean death was caused by excitement.

Relatives of the victim show an inclination to have the investigation stopped, and just how far it will proceed is not known. State's Attorney Perdew said he was told a class was being initiated and five had been successfully "put through" before Offner was reached.

Maniac Struck Down.

Detective James Hosick knocked the man unconscious with a leather billy after slipping up behind him. The fuse of the infernal machine was automatically ignited. Detective Samuel L. Browne carried the box outside and hurled it into the street.

Through a freak of chance there was no explosion, and Browne continued to kick the sticks of dynamite and jumped on the fuse until he had broken the connection and extinguished the fire.

Lying manacled to a cot in the receiving hospital last night the would-be dynamiter, who gave his name as Albert Henry Davis, is suffering with several severe scalp wounds, but the police surgeons say his injuries are not serious.

Davis Enters Office.

The man entered the outer office of Chief of Police Sebastian at 11 o'clock yesterday. He carried in his arms a large box resembling a small hand organ.

Police Sergeant R. C. Hilf asked the man what he wanted.

"I've got enough dynamite in here to blow us all into eternity," he said, "and I want you to send for the highest officials of the Southern Pacific railroad."

Courts Hastily Adjourned.

In the meantime Chief Sebastian ordered the street roped off for a block either way and directed the removal of 100 prisoners from the city jail. Upstairs two justice courts were in session.

A detective passed the word to a bailiff in Judge Chambers' court. The bailiff whispered to the judge.

"Court's adjourned until 2 p. m. Clear the court room," ordered the judge promptly, and there was a rush for the stairway. A similar scene was enacted in Justice Frederickson's court.

The prisoners were removed to the Doyle Heights prison.

Patients Taken Away.

Ambulances removed the patients from the City Emergency hospital just around the corner from the chief's office. The hospital was crowded with patients injured in last night's fire at the St. George hotel.

After the maniac had held complete possession of the station for nearly an hour and a half Detective Hosick got behind the man and struck him on the head with a "black jack." The infernal machine dropped and Detective Brown, who was at Hosick's elbow, grabbed it.

Learning Little About Him.

At the receiving hospital the prisoner said he was born in Germany, was 34 years old and had lived in this country fifteen years. He admitted that Davis was not his right name and finally declined to talk about his past.

A San Diego detective said Davis was in that city at the beginning of the I. W. W. outbreaks last spring and was one of the men driven out of the city at that time. Davis denied he had ever been in San Diego.

A local official of the Industrial Workers of the World said he had never seen the man.

Davis apparently had been brooding over the Southern Pacific shopmen's strike, but he denied he had been employed by the company.

Identified as Warr.

The would-be dynamiter was identified last night as Carl Warr, a German laborer.

In a search of his home tax receipts bearing that name were found and after much questioning by detectives the man admitted that it was his name. He said also that more explosives were secreted in the vicinity of the house and that when he recovered from his injuries he would take the police to the hiding place.

War said that he stole the dynamite from the powder house of a quarry at Bloomington, Cal.

He made an impression of the lock and made keys which opened the powder house.

TREES VITAL IN CITY PLANNING

Value Emphasized Before American Civic Association Meeting.

AN OBJECT LESSON

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 20.—The "problem that confronts us is to make vegetable life grow and flourish in unnatural surroundings, made so by the ordinary method of city construction" said Henry N. Castle, secretary of the commission on beautifying the city of Norfolk, Va., in addressing the eighth annual convention of the American Civic association here today.

"Had we with our present experience," he continued, "the laying out of our cities and towns, the problem would be a comparatively easy one, but our forefathers thought little of the present day problem, or of the result of their narrow planning. In laying out their cities, with the whole unused continent before them, they were influenced by their remembrance of the old world whence they had emigrated, where land was dear, and space restricted and so all along the Atlantic seaboard we had cities with narrow streets, little if any parkway areas, sidewalks and curb join, bare, desolate, windswept, dust laden and sunbeaten—a terror to man and beast."

Mr. Castle referred to Washington as affording an object lesson all over the country in the excellent results secured by well supervised planting of trees.

It was a logical conclusion, he said, that a city should look after its greater interests and exercise a direct supervision over the planting and care of its trees.

"State after state has fallen in line" said Mr. Castle "and authorized the municipal control of shade trees in cities and towns desiring the same." Mr. Castle gave a series of general rules which should be followed in planting and care of trees on city streets.

POSTAL RAID WILL NAB 173

the lower strata of society. All of the arrests are to be made for alleged violation of section 211 of the penal code of the United States, which bars from the mails any vile or obscene matter whether sealed or unsealed, or any advertisement, letter or circular proposing or suggesting criminal practices; or any packet containing any substance, drug or thing intended to be used for immoral or unlawful purposes. Chief Inspector Robert S. Sharp, of the postoffice department, and many of his force of 300 inspectors have been working upon the cases for many months. The development of the plans, which culminated today, is the most extensive raid in the history of any department of the government.

Many Already Indicted.

Approximately ninety of the persons already have been indicted by United States grand juries in various parts of the country, and the cases of the others will be presented to grand juries now sitting as rapidly as may be feasible.

Strict enforcement of municipal and state laws in the east is said by the postal authorities to account for the comparatively few arrests in the large cities in that part of the country. It is said by the postoffice inspectors that a hotbed of this sort of criminality is in the Pacific coast states. There they had comparatively little difficulty in obtaining a mass of evidence against accused persons. In San Francisco it is claimed a fictitious name was used by several well known physicians who employed a woman to do the necessary advertising and clerical work. Cases were solicited by correspondence and by printed circular sent through the mails. Scores of complaints have been received by the department from respectable women, complaining of the receipts of this class of matter.

"Pill Doctors" in Majority.

Approximately 20 per cent of those arrested today are so-called pill doctors—men who advertise their practice by correspondence or otherwise, and send to their patients either by mail or by express various compounds in the form of pills or powders. Careful analysis of these compounds by the government authorities is said to have disclosed that some of them are wholly innocuous, while others are dangerous poisons. Under another section of the penal code the sending of poisons through the mails is expressly forbidden. One of the men accused is said to have been the secretary of the board of health in the city of his residence. He responded, it is stated, to a decoy or test letter sent to him by the inspectors on the stationery of the board of health. He has been indicted, according to the reports received by the postoffice inspectors.

Particular care was taken by the inspectors in collecting the evidence against business concerns—drug houses and remedy companies. The men actually responsible for the illicit correspondence were ordered arrested and many indictments already have been returned.

Met Many Difficulties.

As showing the difficulties encountered the following case is cited by those who have conducted the inquiry:

Interviews of the inspectors with many of these practitioners indicated clearly that they knew they were violating the law and were treading upon dangerous grounds. In Chicago an inspector called upon a physician after having received from him a response by mail to his decoy letter. The inspector professed a desire to engage the doctor's services. The doctor was cautious, and the inspector was called upon to show the letter he had received. It was in the physician's own handwriting. Evidently suspicious, he snatched the letter from the inspector's hand, tore it in two and threw it in the waste basket. Subsequently the inspector returned to the office in the temporary absence of the doctor, secured the strips from the basket and pasted them together. That letter constitutes an important link in the chain of evidence on which that doctor was indicted.

It is the expressed determination of the postal authorities to put an end to the promotion by mail of criminal practices and of the traffic in drugs and instruments upon which a ban is placed by the law. Postmaster General Hitchcock said today that every case against an alleged violator of the law would be pressed vigorously and every effort made to send the culprit, if convicted, to the penitentiary.

FIVE AT INDIANAPOLIS.

Quartet of Men and One Woman Taken Into Custody There.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 20.—Four men and a woman were arrested here today by the federal authorities charged with the misuse of the mails. Those under arrest are Lee Morrison, wealthy merchant and prominent in church work; Dr. Solomon P. Stoddard, Dr. C. A. Henry, with offices on Ohio street; F. B. Clark, president of a company manufacturing rubber toilet articles, and Miss Nellie Whelan, employed by the same company.

The arrests were made on warrants sworn out by Postoffice Inspector W. C. Ely, of this city, who contends that, through corresponding with the persons under arrest, he obtained evidence that the accused were circulating through the mails matter describing the illegal use of certain drugs and mechanical devices.

The sixth Indianapolis man, Dr. C. M. Clayton, sought in connection with the nation-wide postoffice raid, was arrested this afternoon. Federal authorities were unable to find him when the others were arrested this morning.

THE FORT WAYNE CASE.

C. E. Bentz, Druggist, Is Accused by Uncle Sam.

C. E. Bentz, one of the proprietors of the Woodworth drugstore in the Shoaff building, was placed under arrest this morning by Deputy United States Marshal A. R. Walter on an affidavit filed by Postoffice Inspector W. B. Piatt, charging improper use of the mails.

It is said the action is based on the charge that Mr. Bentz, in response to an out-of-town order, mailed to the applicant a device which the government has declared to be designed for improper purposes and therefore is unmailable. Mr. Bentz disclaims any intent whatever to violate the law. The alleged infraction occurred some months ago.

Mr. Bentz promptly furnished bond in the sum of $300 for his appearance before the federal grand jury.

Not unlike yesterday, hundreds of women were anxious to hear the remainder of the young woman's testimony and crowded into the court room when the doors were thrown open. Dozens of women, eager to secure points of vantage, waited at the doors of the court room more than two hours before time for convening of court and many carried campstools and lunches.

Standing in a cleared space in front of the jury box Miss Farley late yesterday went through the actions demonstrating the assertion of the defense that Zollinger was accidentally shot in a city park last May.

The accused stenographer acted her part in a dramatic manner, entering into the demonstration with zest. Attorney James A. Allen acted the part of Zollinger.

Accompanying her words with action, Miss Farley testified:

"We were walking through the park. I was about a step ahead of Mr. Zollinger. Suddenly he said: 'Here comes Quigley. We might as well end it all now.' As I turned to look for Mr. Quigley he reached in my hand bag for the revolver and took hold of it by the muzzle.

"I whirled around and grabbed the revolver by the handle, while he clung to the barrel. In trying to wrench it from his grasp I stepped back, pulling his hand upward. Just then the revolver was discharged and Mr. Zollinger fell forward on his face."

Attorney Allen, in the part of Zollinger, went so far in picturing the tragedy as to start to fall to the floor. The stillness in the courtroom was intense while the portrayal was taking place.

Mr. Woodward is a former postmaster, unler a democratic regime. The word has gone forth that Harry Hunter has been given endorsement and recommendation for the place by the Jefferson township democratic organization, also the recommendation of County Chairman B. A. Batson and a number of other prominent citizens, and he is supposed to have "the inside track." Nevertheless the other candidates have not relinquished hopes and are putting forth their efforts to gain favor with Congressman Adair, who will make the recommendation and whose recommendations likely will be recognized. Mr. Hammer informed his friends that he and the lady of his choice would be married in the Windy City and remain there for an indefinite length of time.

Mrs. Hunter visited here some three months ago, and later Mr. Hammer went to St. Louis and after the people were satisfied that no misrepresentations had been made through their correspondence, which was started by advertisements in matrimonial journals, they decided to become life partners for better or worse. The bride is reputed to be quite wealthy, owing a prominent business block in St. Louis.

BIG MONEY IN CHICKENS.

So Thinks Frank Hickman, a Whitley County Farmer.

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 20.—Frank Hickman, of Union township, brought sixty chickens to market Tuesday morning that weighed 294 pounds, and received ten and a half cents per pound for them, or $30.87. This makes $132.90 Mr. Hickman has realized for chickens this summer and he still has 135 head on his farm. This amount does not include what he realized for eggs. He does not use an incubator for hatching, but many fowls make their own nests and care for themselves. He regards chickens as money makers.

A "Tip" from the West Indies for Eczema Sufferers

These Spanish speaking islands have a marvelous remedy for Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum and other inflammatory conditions of the skin. This remedy is called "EXOINTO." Here is an example of its wonderful efficiency,

"I have pleasure in certifying that after suffering for over twenty years with eczema, which had assumed chronic type, and after using various kinds of lotions and ointments without obtaining relief, I was recommended to use "EXOINTO," and the result has been simply wonderful, in fact I can assert with all truth that I am now entirely free from all this painful and annoying ailment. It affords me much pleasure, and I can with all confidence recommend "EXOINTO" to all persons suffering from eczema and other irritations of the skin." (Signed) EUG. HERNANDEZ.
St. Joseph, Trinidad. Nov. 19, 1907.

"EXOINTO" is now put up in 25c tubes and sold in the United States for the next time. Go to Dreier Drug Co., John C. Wenking, People's Drug Co., or D. & N. Pharmacy, and try a tube and be convinced of its wonderful healing power. The relief is permanent when you use "EXOINTO."

HE HUNTED ON SUNDAY.

Noble County Man Fined for Violation of the Law.

Kendallville, Ind., Nov. 20.—Charged with violation of the Sunday hunting law, Sim Cain, a well known resident of Orange township, was brought into Justice Bushong's court at Rome City and fined $1 and costs, in all $22. He paid.

Cain was arrested Sunday and taken into custody by Commissioner Lampman, of Fort Wayne. He was hunting in a woodland east of Rome City, when he was accosted by Deputy Lampman and taken into custody.

This is the first arrest that has been made for violation of the Sunday hunting law this season, and will doubtless put a quietus on the organization of Sunday hunting parties. Reports from Rome City are to the effect that the game warden was not visiting the Rome City neighborhood for the purpose of making arrests of farmers of the community, but to capture Fort Wayne hunters who, it is alleged, had been accustomed to making trips to the Rome City neighborhood.

Registration Law Results.

The charge that some of the "practical" politicians are planning an attack upon the Indiana registration law when the legislature meets in January, with the purpose of either securing its repeal or of practically nullifying its effect, affords legitimate occasion for inquiring into some of its results as seen at the recent election. There isn't any manner of doubt but that the new law prevented the casting of hundreds if not thousands of illegal votes in Indiana this year.

At Terre Haute it is declared that there were hundreds of illegal registrations, and in consequence some scores of men are under indictment by the Vigo county grand jury, but it ought to be recorded that the alleged illegal votes were not cast because the registration law made it possible to detect any preliminaries looking toward the casting of illegal ballots. In Lake county, where illegal voting of unnaturalized foreigners two years ago and four years ago amounted to a public scandal, there was apparently no ground for criticism this year, while the total of naturalization papers issued there dropped from 2,817 in 1908, to 880 this year. In Fort Wayne there has never been occasion for serious complaint upon this score, but it is to be noted that in one district at least, many men whose right to the elective franchise might have been questioned, did not register and did not attempt to vote.

Beyond question in a vast majority of sections of Indiana the registration law is wholly unnecessary. Everybody knows everybody else, and there is no attempt at vote frauds. But the supreme court of the state would instantly hold unconstitutional any statute that attempted to make the registration law applicable to one section of a state and not to another. The registration law has justified itself. It is needed in every large center of population. Doubtless it needs modification and amendment in some particular, but it ought not be repealed and its efficacy should not be impaired by tinkering with it.

That was a splendid tribute voiced by attorneys of the Allen county bar in their testimonial to Judge Edward O'Rourke, now of record in the achives of the Allen circuit court, upon the occasion of his retirement from the bench. The presence of practically the entire membership of the bar, too, made the occasion additionally impressive, and the expression will doubtless be cherished by Judge O'Rourke as one of the most priceless memories of his long career in the law.

The verdict of that New York jury which sends the four gunmen over the same route traversed by Former Police Lieutenant Becker, for the murder of Gambler Rosenthal, would seem to indicate that a public awakening is not impossible even in New York City. The situation is one for which no specific of lesser severity than the electric chair seems adequate, and the moral effect of the outcome of these famous cases is likely to be salutary.

Twelfth district democracy proposes to go in force to Washington next March and see Governor Marshall inaugurated as vice president of the United States. The idea is an excellent one, for at least one member of the Twelfth district democracy is going to be pretty prominent in national affairs during the next four years.

THE PRESS DISCUSSES AMBASSADOR BRYCE.

"No Abler Man."

Pittsburg Post: "Those who are familiar with his public services realize that no abler man than Mr. Bryce ever represented the British government at Washington."

"Fails to Carry Conviction."

Washington Post: "Frankly, the studied effort to have it appear that the resignation of Ambassador Bryce was dictated by personal reasons solely fails to carry conviction."

"Will Wish Him Godspeed."

Brooklyn Eagle: "Americans will wish Mr. Bryce godspeed in his departure from their country and will hope for him long years of enjoyment and usefulness in his own."

Panama Tools.

Philadelphia Ledger: "Of late it has been the custom to charge Mr. Bryce with lukewarmness in his country's interest because the British contention with respect to Panama tools has not been accepted by this government."

"Plain, Everyday Democrat."

Washington Herald: "We all know and admire the venerable diplomatist, at once the representative of the world's greatest dynastic Power and a plain everyday democrat."

"Almost a Public Misfortune."

Worcester Gazette: "That the representative of Great Britain in Washington contemplates retirement from his American mission may be regarded almost as a public misfortune."

"Literature Wins."

Chicago Record-Herald: "Mr. Bryce, like John Morley, has always preferred letters and political science to practical politics. What diploma loses in the Ambassador's retirement literature wins."

"Has Shown Keen Sympathy."

Atlanta Constitution: "At every point, whether in his utterances or actions, Mr. Bryce has shown an almost clairvoyant perception of our problems and a keen sympathy with our more important issues."

"Interests and Honor."

Providence Journal: Mr. Bryce has upheld the interests and the honor of his own country while ever mindful of the courtesy and consideration due to ours. No grave dispute between the two has arisen during his Ambassadorship; and we may hope that even the perfidy and dishonor of the Canal act will be atoned for before such a dispute arises."

AVAUNT, OLD AGE

(Grand Rapids News)

Better sanitation, more attention to the laws of health and avoidance of tasks or pastimes inducing undue bodily fatigue have combined to greatly prolong human life during the last few years, and especially to enable people to retain their youthful vigor until late in life

It is very rare nowadays to see decrepit looking men and women. The span of life is not only increasing, but we no longer look upon old age as something to be dreaded. Men and women are hale and vigorous at 70, and are often beginning the most important work of their lives at this age.

Especially is this noticeable when we read old romances, and see how soon women came to be looked upon as old. Shakespeare made Juliet meet with the impassioned moment in her life at the age of 14. Now a girl of that age is supposed to be only a school girl.

Acting versions, however, make Juliet 16, because this was the accepted marriageable age of English girls at that period. Today girls who marry as early as that have to run away from home in order to do so.

In romances of periods as late as the civil war we read sentences like this: "She was no longer in her first youth, having passed her nineteenth year." And in "Geoffry Hamlyn," one of Charles Kingsley's novels, published in 1859, we have an account of Miss Thornton, a governess, who, on arriving at Australia, is described as a "poor, nervous old maid, thrown adrift in her old age." And she was 45.

Heroes of 35 were invariably termed "on the shady side of life," and men past 40 were deemed ready to make their peace and prepare for death.

John of Lancaster, in "Richard II," is always spoken of as "old Gaunt," and "aged Gaunt," and is depicted as bent and decrepit. Gaunt, however, died at the age of 59, when statesmen today are just beginning to play the game.

The world is full of opportunities for mature men and women. Age, regarded as a bugbear formerly, has become a badge of honor. No man or woman need fear old age if health and intellectual ability are conserved.

FOR A LIFETIME.

(New York World.)

That Governor Wilson favors prompt action by the new congress to reduce the cost of living is plainly shown by the impatience with which he receives suggestions that there must be more commissions and more inquiries. "They have been investigating the tariff all my lifetime," he said.

It should be added that nobody calls for a commission when he want to mark up a tariff schedule. Commissions gain favor only when the people ask relief from the extortions practiced upon them by favored interests. Commissions move slowly and in the end accomplish nothing. Junkshops everywhere are glutted with the reports of comissions.

The investigations of the tariff that have been proceeding for a lifetime have not been altogether official. Consumers numbering millions have taken the trouble to inform themselves and they have learned some things thoroughly. They know that taxes can be decreased as easily as they can be increased, and they know that if an increase can be made in behalf of a self-seeker overnight, a decrease need not necessarily be a solemn and laborious proceeding covering months and years.

If the people had been as attentive to their own affairs as they should have been, these processes would have been reversed. Taxes that reach the food, clothing, household goods and implements of all Americans have been imposed without inquiry or discussion in a single day. Jokers yielding millions to craft and graft have been put into the law in an hour. These wrongs are known and they can be corrected by the stroke of a pen. Measures for the relief of the people have dragged along for a generation.

Prompt action is necessary to keep faith with the millions, to remove uncertainty and to forestall further agitation, but it is supported by another reason. It is necessary in order to destroy the superstition bred by the beneficiaries of privilege that this tariff idol is too holy to be touched by those whose substance its worshipers devour.

The assumption that Governor Wilson will move quickly after his inauguration as president seems to be justified no less by his character and principles than by his utterances. He, too, has investigated the tariff all his life and he knows as well today as he possibly can a year or two from today what is needed to correct the worst of its injustices and oppressions.

ROBBER CAUGHT BY TWO BOYS.

Suspected Man Is Trailed a Mile by Youthful Sleuths.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—William Stephens ran out of the undertaking rooms of William Bradley in West Madison street today and hurriedly boarded a moving street car. Ray Petty, 15 years old, ad a companion, Donald Roberts, 12 years old, were riding past on bicycles. The boys suspected that Stephens had been robbing the place and followed the street car. For a mile they pursued Stephens and when he alighted and went into a saloon, one of the lads watched the place while the other hurried to a police station and related their suspicions. Stephens was arrested and $315 was found n his pockets. Bradley later asserted that the money had been stolen from his till. Stephens was held to the grand jury.

FORT WAYNE FAIR COMPANY TO QUIT

Association Deeply in Debt and Directors Want to Disband.

TO HOLD A MEETING

Although no official action has been taken in the matter, the rumor is persistent that the Fort Wayne Fair association is about to disband.

It is understood that every member of the board of directors has agreed that there is no use in attempting to conduct another fair as a paying proposition, and they are willing to quit. The matter has not been up before the stockholders. The fact is, however, that most of the stockholders are members of the board of directors. It is believed that the association will disband within a very short time. It is deeply in debt, and those who have money interested in the organization do not care to take a chance of losing more.

"At a recent meeting of the board of directors it was the consensus of opinion that we did not want to attempt to continue business any longer," said Colonel D. N. Foster. "The expenses of the last two years has shown that without the large amount formerly received from the beer privilege, the fair could not be made self-supporting. We find that cutting out the beer privilege cuts down the receipts in two ways. We lost what we formerly got for for the privilege and we lost in attendance. Many Allen county people regarded the fair as an annual picnic and being largely German, feel that they want the privilege of being able to buy and drink their national beveridge."

Mr. Foster stated that he believed that Mr. Streider and a number of others had decided to form another organization and perhaps try to continue the fair. He also stated that the capital stock of the association had been invested in buildings on the fair grounds. It is understood that a meeting of stockholders will be held within a short time, when a detailed report will be submitted on the receipts and expenditures of the associtaion.

Herman W. Tapp is president of the association. Other officers are: Vice president, Joseph Tonkel; secretary, P. T. Strieder; treasurer, Charles McCulloch.

HARRY KEPLINGER TO LEAVE.

Local Banker to Engage in New Business at Cleveland.

Harry A. Keplinger, second vice-president of the First National bank, will resign his position the first of the next year and will move with his family to Cleveland, where it is said he will accept a position as president of a large manufacturing concern, backed by Cleveland and Fort Wayne capitalists. Mr. Keplinger goes to Cleveland tomorrow for the purpose of looking after his interests. His resignation, however, has not been submitted to directors of the bank.

William H. Kelly, of Fairfield avenue, will accompany Mr. Keplinger to Cleveland. It is said that the concern to which the two Fort Wayne men go will manufacture ladies' ready-to-wear apparel.

Mr. Keplinger has resided in Fort Wayne all his life. He started his successful career in the banking business with the Hamilton National bank. He went from that institution to the White National bank and remained there until 1905. In August of that year the White and First National banks consolidated under the name of the First National bank. Mr. Keplinger was elected second vice-president, and has continued in that capacity since.

Edward G. Hoffman is at Chicago on legal business.

OFFICERS ASKED FOR CONFERENCE

Safety Board Will Talk Over Matters With Traction Company's Men.

ACTING ON PETITION

Officers of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company were today asked to a conference next Tuesday night with the board of public safety to talk over violations of the company's charter charged by the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor.

First the board of public works was asked to look into these alleged violations but it was decided that the enforcement of ordinances is a police duty and the request of the federation was taken up last night by the board of public safety.

President James A. Lechler spoke last night as chairman of a committee selected to present the matter to the board and insisted that the organization is simply asking for things that the street car patrons are entitled to and that this is not a fight against capital.

It is charged chiefly that the cars are not equipped with air brakes as required by ordinance, that fenders are not regularly inspected and kept in working order, that conductors do not call the streets and that jacks are not provided with each car.

Bids were ordered at the safety board meeting for an auto ladder truck at engine house No. 2.

Otto Dencker is Not Held Accountable for Stabbing Chicago Man.

New York, Nov. 20.—The grand jury, which has been investigating the stabbing of Fred S. The entertainment to be given in the Bloomingdale school on Friday afternoon and evening of this week is a new thing in Fort Wayne, so far as adults are concerned. But such is not the case in many cities. Mrs. Scott conducts story-hours for public libraries and schools and for children's days of women's clubs, church and public entertainments, philanthropic work and children's parties. The stories she tells are adapted to such audiences as she is to appear before. Her appearance in this city will be a treat to all who hear her.

WHITE HOUSE SOCIAL ACTIVITIES TO BE HER SPECIAL WORK.

MISS MARY BAYLESS, PRIVATE SECRETARY TO MRS. WOODROW WILSON.

Miss Mary Bayless, West Union, O., has been chosen to fill the important social position of private secretary to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president-elect of the United States.

It is not uncommon for residents of the Buckeye state to move into the spotlight of political favor. But it is worthy of some special note when the first lady in the land chooses her social aid de camp and private assistant from the central states.

Miss Bayless will begin her duties at the white house next March.

DON'T WEAR OLD, SAD CLOTHES WHEN A BABAY'S COMING TO YOUR HOUSE.

(By Cynthia Grey.)

The time was not so very long ago when a woman hid herself away from every one but her most intimate relations when she knew she was to become a mother.

But we are growing more sensible. Expectant mothers go about their daily household duties as well as preparing for the newcomer in a perfectly open manner. Very few women try to wear their every day clothes while waiting for the new baby, however, and there is always a question in the minds of young mothers as to what sort of gown is best to wear at this time.

Don't wear a loose gown that hangs from the shoulders to the feet. It is apt to pull up in front and give you a very awkward appearance.

First make a skirt, putting a band on all but the back breadths. In these put a draw string. Be sure and put on the skirt some straps that will go over the shoulders, as tight bands are very injurious.

Over this make your loose garment. One that is half fitting in the back is gathered at the shoulders and belted with ribbons across the waist and reaches down on the skirt in a kind of tunic would be in very good style just at present. This gown should be made of some soft material and of a color that is becoming to you. This year taupe would be very good if it looks well on you. Don't wear black; it is very depressing, both to yourself and those about you.

The gown in the illustration was made for a very wealthy woman, but the lace under skirt could be made of soft figured challie and for every day wear with an under waist of challie with long sleeves that would show through the openings of the loose coat. Over this make the loose coat like the illustration of plain chiffon cloth that matches the ground of the challie.

With a gown of this kind one may feel that one looks well, and this will have much to do with banishing any possible embarrassment.

3-Grain Tablet Makes Flesh.

Any one wishing to add to their weight, improve their color and restore a normal condition of the stomach, and nerves, should adopt the wonderfully successful treatment known to physicians and druggists as "3-grain hypo-nuclane tablets," put up in sealed packages with full directions for home use. Red lips, pink cheeks and 10 to 30 pounds increase in weight are not uncommon results from several months' usage. Ask your physician or a well stocked druggist for them.—Adv.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

It may be considered a recreation as well as a study to see the Oberamergau Peasant company, who will produce at the Majestic theater Friday night the popular German peasant play "Almenrausch und Edelweiss." The production in five acts is Ludwig Ganghofer's masterpiece and depicts the life and customs of the people in the Bavarian Alps as no other production does.

The plot is simple. The son of a wealthy estate owner in the Bavarian Alps falls in love with a poor maid, who works on the father's farm. The father objects to the marriage. Through an unfortunate circumstance the son is accused of having killed an assistant gamekeeper and is sent to prison. The sweetheart as well as the mother believe in the innocence of the young man, while the proud father denounces his son and drives the maid from his estate. An artist, who happens to visit the country, falls in love with the pure, demure country maid but is rejected as she loves only her "Friedl" and will not break her promise to him in his trouble. The mother dies from grief. A poacher finally makes a dying confession that he killed the gamekeeper's assistant and "Friedl" is freed to marry his bride.

The plot, however, is not the feature of the play. It is the insight that one gets by witnessing a play of this kind into the real manners and customs of these simple mountain peasants with their sentiment and passions and traditions. In the play there is produced the famous "Schuhplattler" dance, the imitation of which has never been attempted on the American stage. In one of the acts the audience has the opportunity to see a real fight among the people of the village, while the last act finishes with a wedding, when we see the village people in their Sunday attire.

WOMEN TO MARCH AT INAUGURATION

IT WILL BE GRANTED

Washington, Nov. 20.—For the first time in the history of the United States marching women will form a large section of the inaugural parade next March. Woodrow Wilson, on his way to take the oath of office, will be accompanied by an Amazonian bodyguard of suffragettes. The State Suffrage association of the District of Columbia has voted to request the inaugural committee to give the suffragettes a place in the parade and the women have received private assurances from several sources that their request will be granted.

Ten thousand women, they estimate, will answer the appeal, and the capital city will be the objective point of a veritable army of suffragists. Many of them will be women who actually cast a vote for Woodrow Wilson for president in the states which have granted suffrage. The general call for volunteer marchers will be put before the national convention of suffragists, which will begin in Philadelphia Thursday. Responses from women who have been broached on the subject indicate that the project is being received with much enthusiasm.

Enthuse Over Plan.

"We expect that our section of the parade will arouse more interest than any other," said Miss Emma Gillette, the recording secretary, today, "for it will have the advantage of complete novelty as an inaugural feature. Women are joining in the movement irrespective of person al political preferences.

"We have become too powerful to be ignored by politicans and we have no idea that the inaugural committee or the political advisers of the president-elect will fail to accede to our request to march. We shall depend principally for our strength on the suffragists of the nearby states and from those states which have granted equal suffrage. Chicago is expected to send a large contingent, and you may depend upon it that the suffrage section will be a creditable part of the parade."

The women have not yet voted to adopt a distinctive costume for the occasion, but many of them are advocating a special headgear at least. In any event, each woman will be expected to don her most attractive finery and put her best foot forward, literally as well as figuratively. There may be a mounted division in the women's section of the parade and pageantry also.

NOT SALTS AND PILLS, "CASCARETS"

If constipated, bilious, headachy, stomach sour, take a Cascaret.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have back-ache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.

GIRLS! GIRLS! SURELY TRY THIS! DOUBLES BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR

All you need is a 25 cent bottle of "Danderine"—Hair gets lustrous, fluffy and abundant at once.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

A delightful surprise awaits, particularly those who have been careless, whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use of Danderine, when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it; surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it. —Adv.

ACTRESS OR CHILD TEACHER — VITAL TYPES — PHYSICIAN OR PHILANTHROPIST

(Editor's Note.—This is the last of three articles by the famous phrenologist, written especially for The Sentinel.)

BY JESSIE A. FOWLER,
The Greatest Living Phrenologist.

The third type represented in childhood is the vital, or the nutritive and sanguine. This is represented by fullness of features, a large supply of arterial circulation, ruddy countenance, brillian eyes that express warmth and sympathy.

A boy who has this organization is naturally social, domesticated, friendly and companionable and makes a host of friends. He is very hospitable. Nothing pleases him more than to be surrounded by friends, and the capacity to form friendships is favorably developed.

We find a full double chin denoting pliability and adaptability of mind; full lips, which give ardor, intensity of love and affection; a slightly convex or retrousse nose, which indicates a yielding, pliable, good-natured, yet withal a talented and broad-minded as well as liberal-hearted character. Such people, while they are sometimes impulsive, do not mind taking trouble to accomplish their ends.

This boy's head is particularly high, and his purpose in life will be not only for social attainment, but for some moral and philanthropic purpose and work.

As a physician he would exert a beneficial influence.

He is conscientious and will be mindful of his obligations to others, and will win others to his views rather than coerce or force them to see with him, as a motive type would do.

The vital type is adapted to indoor, sedentary work.

The Vital Type of Girl.

The vital type among girls shows a picturesque healthiness and contour of face and form of body. Nature, under these conditions, rounds out every part of the organization, leaving no angles. The height is medium, the weight is not excessive; the features of the face are full and plump.

The eyes are of a beseeching type; the mouth is full and round; the lips are rosy and full: the nose is slightly retrousse; the chin is round, indicating good humor and a lovable disposition. The cheeks are broad, while the head indicates fullness in the posterior region.

This little girl will be found to have a strong desire to play with her dolls, and she will make them experience everything that she has gone through herself. She makes many friends and is ardent, social, winning and affectionate

Together with these qualities, this child has a good intellect; therefore her emotion, sentiment and sympathy will be well trained and guarded. She will not allow sentiment alone to rule her, and were she to become a writer she would choose fiction as her special work. Were she to become an actress she would select the melodrama rather than comedy, and were she to become a teacher she would select the work of a kindergarten rather than a high school. She would make a good physician.

HEART TORN BY PIECE OF IRON

Explosion Tragedy Attends Preparations for Jollification.

BRIEF STATE NEWS

Greentown, Ind., Nov. 20.—Charles Scherer, 34, was killed instantly yesterday, a piece of iron passing through his heart while he was experimenting with powder in an anvil, preparatory to a democratic jollification here last night.

In an attempt to increase the noise, Scherer had placed an iron ring on the anvil and then placed a second anvil on top. He was 250 feet away at the time of the explosion, but the iron ring burst, and a piece of the metal passed almost through his body. Last night's celebration was cancelled. Five companions escaped injury.

POLICE DISCOVER ONE BODY.

Find Removes All Doubt That Laporte Hunters Were Drowned.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 20.—After a search lasting since last Friday afternoon, men working with Chief of Police Meinke found the body of Carl Buncbarger, one of the men who went hunting last Thursday and failed to return. The body was found in about twenty-five feet of water, where the boat in which the two men went out was found, yesterday. Search for the body of Paul Albrecht continues. Both men were Rumely employes and were well-known in labor circles in the city. Buncbarger has relatives in Philadelphia who have been notified.

ENTER MUNICIPAL POLITICS.

South Bend Progressives Will Name City Ticket Next Year.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 20.—The progressive party of South Bend today took preliminary action toward placing a ticket in the field for the city election of 1913. The progressives expect to carry the city as they have unusually available material for candidates. Among those already mentioned for mayor are A. O. Clark, a prominent business man, and John Swygart, retired business man. The democrats will center their strength on E. J. Fogarty, present warden of the Indiana state prison at Michigan City, or Patrick Joyce, former ball player and precent city controller.

GETS SECOND CONTINUANCE.

John T. Healy is Accused of Killing Montgomery Marshal.

Washington, Ind., Nov. 20.—By agreement of the attorneys for the state and defense the case of John T. Healy, of Montgomery, charged with first degree murder, was continued in the circuit court today. Healy, with his son Harry, who is serving a term in the Indiana reformatory for the crime, was indicted for the killing of Robert Walker, marshal of Montgomery. The son was tried at the April term of court and convicted of manslaughter. The father was released on bond shortly after and at the last term of court the case was carried over until this term.

ASKS HAND IN SELECTION.

Columbus and Hope Citizens Want to Vote for Postmasters.

Columbus, Ind., Nov. 20.—The contests for the postmaster appointments here and at Hope are warming up, and the people are demanding to have a hand in them, by insisting that primaries be held to determine who is wanted by the voters. Hope has two candidates, but there are a dozen here, and four of these are school teachers.

GREEKS OF WEST RAISE WAR FUND

In United Effort to Secure $1,000,000 for the Army.

THOUSANDS GO HOME

New York, Nov. 20.—Thousands of Greeks from the west and southwest of the United States already have left this port for their native land to join the forces which are battling the Turks.

In addition to those who have gone many others are on the way here from several western states, equipped for war and ready to battle for their country.

One feature of the exodus from the United States that shows the great patriotism of the Greeks is the fact that many of them sold their business or took the savings made from hard toil to pay their own expenses to the scene of war and furnish their own equipment.

Plain to Raise a Million.

Simultaneous with the departure of these patriots, the Pan-Hellenic union, the principal organization of Greeks in the United States, has been authorized by the minister of finance in Athens, Diommidis Kyriakos, to raise a fund of $1,000,000 to be used for the support of the Greek army now in the field against the Turks and for any other purposes to which the government may choose to devote it.

This fact was made known the other day when 2,000 Greeks gathered in the Grand Central palace to celebrate the victories of their armies in the Balkans and especially the capture of Saloniki, ancient stronghold of the Hellenic nations.

The plan the Pan-Hellenic union will follow in carrying out this suggestion is to issue $1,000,000 worth of bonds, valued at $5 each and bearing no interest. These will be offered to the Greeks in this country for subscription. Later they will be taken over by the Greek government in exchange for government vouchers or bonds payable in ten years.

The officers of the union expect to have little difficulty in disposing of the entire issue. Many of the bonds have been sold already and subscribers are being secured at a remarkable rate.

140 Branches of Union.

There are 140 branches of the union in the United States, and it has about 60,000 members in the important cities. The headquarters are usually in Boston, but they have been transferred to 37 Bridge street, this city, while the war lasts. Already the organization has been instrumental in sending back to the fatherland 8,500 reservists to join the army, not only paying their passage but supporting their families during the period of their service.

The last meeting was held in the grand foyer of the Palace, and there was the greatest enthusiasm when some of the best known Greek orators in the country recounted the success of the Greek armies in the present war. The principal speaker was the Rev. Methodios Courcoulis, of the Greek Church of St. Trinity, Seventy-second street and Lexington avenue. He is considered one of the most eloquent men in the Greek colony here.

When he told how the Greek troops had, after so many long years, finally succeeded in capturing Saloniki and taking possession of the old Greek Church of St. Demetrius, held for 412 years by the Turks and used as a mosque, the air was rent with cries of "Zito! Zito!" which is the Greek form of "hurrah."

Laugh Over Turk Prisoners.

Another speech that stirred the big audience to a wild demonstration was made by General Manager Papamichalboupos, of the Pan-Hellenic union, probably the best known man of his race in this country.

He used to be an official of the government in Athens and wore on his breast two decorations for eminent service. He raised a laugh when he said that one of the greatest problems of the war that the Greek government has to consider is how to care for the Turkish prisoners, of whom more than 40,000 have already been taken.

DIES WHILE AT PRAYER.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 20.—While kneeling in prayer yesterday at the chapel of St. Ann's church, Sister Mary Mae Crim, of the Sisterhood of Providence, dropped dead. She was born in Ireland, 72 years ago, and took her vows at St. Marys-of-the-Woods, near Terre Haute. She came here three years ago from Valparaiso.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage, a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair.

The old idea of using Sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers had dark, glossy hair at seventy-five, while our mothers are gray before they are fifty. Our grandmothers kept their hair soft and glossy with a "Sage Tea," which also restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it. This objection has been overcome by the Wyeth Chemical Company of New York, who has placed on the market a superior preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp, and thin, weak, falling hair.

The beauty of the hair depends more on its rich, even shading than anything else. Don't have dry, harsh faded hair, when a simple, harmless remedy will bring back the color in a few days; and don't be tormented with dandruff, itching scalp and loose, falling hairs. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will quickly correct these troubles, and give color, strength and beauty to your hair.

Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and prove this to your own satisfaction. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

154 STATE JOBS ON RALSTON LIST

Will Be Filled During His Four-Year Term as Governor.

THE PLUM CATALOGUE

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 20.—Samuel M. Ralston will be required to make 145 appointments, several of them to high salaried positions, during his four-year term as governor of Indiana. Mr. Ralston has not consulted the official records to ascertain just what patronage he will have at his disposal, but it is said that he is getting first-hand information as to the vacancies he will have to fill through numerous applications for positions received since the election.

Mr. Ralston thus far has announced only one appointment, that of B. B. Johnson, of Richmond, to serve as his private secretary. This position carries with it a salary of $2,500 a year. Before he is inaugurated, Jan. 13, he is expected to announce the selection of an executive clerk and a stenographer, each to receive a salary of $900 a year.

Many After First Year.

Fifty-one of the 154 appointments will be made during the first year of his term. All but six of this number will be democrats. Progressives or republicans will be named to fill a half-dozen vacancies on bi-partisan boards of trustees of various state institutions. All of the high-salaried positions, however, will go to democrats. The terms of most of the democratic members of the various state boards expire after the first year of the new administration.

One of the first appointments of importance to be made will be a member of the railroad commission of Indiana to succeed W. J. Wood, whose term expires May 1, 1913. The salary is $4,000 a year.

At state veterinarian, at a salary of $100 a month and expenses, is to be appointed March 23, 1913, upon the expiration of the term of W. E. Coover, of Montpelier. While the salary is not large, it is anticipated that the office will not go begging.

Another appointment to be made in 1913 will be a deputy in the board of public accounting office. The term of John H. Boltz, of Winchester, republican member of this board, expires June 7. The salary is $3,000 a year. Mr. Ralston has not indicated whether he will appoint a progressive or a republican to fill the vacancy.

Several "Plums" Ripe.

There will be another "plum" worth the knocking when C. C. Matson, democrat, of Greencastle, completes his term, Aug. 24, 1914, as a member of the state board of tax commissioners. The office pays $3,000 a year.

Two more vacancies will be created in December of next year upon the expiration of the terms of Adjt. Gen. eGorge W. McCoy, of Vincennes, and Quartermaster General Charles A. Garrard, of Indianapolis. The former receives a yearly salary of $2,250 and the salary of the latter is $1,200. Trustees of various state institutions receive $300 a year.

Vacancies to be created during Mr. Ralston's first year by the expiration of the terms of trustees of state institutions follow:

Bittler, democrat, of Fort Wayne, a deputy in the office of the board of public accounting.

WILL MAKE COURSE USEFUL.

South Bend Superintendent Favors Studies of Practical Kind.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 20.—Realizing that 75 per cent of the pupils quit before they reach the high school because the education received is more for the purpose of fitting the youth for a college career than for real practical, industrial work, announcement has been made by L. J. Montgomery, superintendent of schools, that the aim of the school city of South Bend will be to change this condition of affairs and give to every student courses which will fit them for the serious problems of life. To support his contention, Superintendent Montgomery cited figures based upon statistics furnished by the records of the public and parochial schools. He showed that of 1,784 pupils who enter the first grade only 371 remain in school long enough to complete the eighth grade.

Here is a woman who speaks from personal knowledge and long experience, viz., Mrs. P. H. Brogan, of Wilson, Pa., who says: "I know from experience that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is far superior to any other. For croup there is nothing that excels it." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

FIGURES SHOW A GREAT ADVANCE

Power of U. S. in the World of Commerce and Finance.

AS TO POPULATION

New York, Nov. 20.—The progress of the United States in population, production, finance and commerce is pictured in a publication entitled "Statistical Record of the Progress of the United States, 1800-1912," just issued by the division of statistics of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

The figures it presents, while enabling a comparison of present conditions with those at almost any earlier date during the period named, are especially interesting when present conditions are compared with those of a decade ago, 1902.

Population has increased 20 per cent in the period in question, 1902-1912, money in circulation has grown from $2,249,390,551 to $3,276,786,613, the population increased 20 per cent, loans and discounts of national banks have grown from $3,221,859,632 to $5,053,904,432, the deposits in savings banks have grown from $2,650,104,486 to $4,212,583,509; imports of merchandise have grown from $903,320,948 to $1,653,264,934, imports free of duty grew from $396,818,871 to $881,670,830, imports of crude materials for use in manufacturing have grown from $303,001,868 to $535,086,044, and exports of domestic merchandise have increased from $1,355,481,861 to $2,170,319,828.

Turning to production, the figures show in beet sugar an increase from 369,000,000 pounds in 1902 to 1,238,000,000 in 1912; copper, from 294,000 tons in 1902 to 490,000 in 1911; petroleum, from 3,728,000,000 gallons in 1902 to 9,259,000,000 in 1911; coal, from 269,000,000 tons in 1901 to 443,000,000 in 1911; pig iron, from 18,000,000 tons in 1902 to an estimated total of 28,000,000 in 1912, and tin plate from 806,000,000 pounds in 1902 to 1,619,000,000 in 1910. Of cotton the production has increased from 10,800,000 bales in 1902 to 16,300,000 bales in 1911.

J. W. Copeland, of Dayton, Ohio, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for his boy who had a cold, and before the bottle was all used the boy's cold was gone. Is that not better than to pay a five dollar doctor's bill? For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

Two pounds of Tungsten will furnish material for filaments for about 50,000 electric bulbs, for each filament is only one twelve-hundredth of an inch in diameter. The current passing through the filament heats it to an incredible degree until it is almost white hot, producing a mellow, clear light of great brilliancy.

When you have a bad cold you want the best medicine obtainable so as to cure it with as little delay as possible. Here is a druggist's opinion: "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for fifteen years," says Enos Lollar, of Saratoga, Ind., "and consider it the best on the market." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

TO RETIRE FROM JEWELRY TRADE

Mr. Green to Engage in the Manufacture of Optical Goods.

TO AUCTION STOCK

After twenty years of success in the retail jewelry business in Fort Wayne, Dallas Green is preparing to retire, to engage in the manufacture of optical goods. The entire stock in his store will be sold at auction, beginning next Saturday.

Announcement of Mr. Green's retirement from the retail field in the city comes as a great surprise to his business friends and associates. Mr. Green opened his store in Fort Wayne twenty years ago and for more than seventeen years was located in the Arcade, on West Berry street. When the Shoaff building was completed he moved his stock into the present handsome quarters. The store is today one of the largest in Indiana and is the largest owned by one individual.

The sale of the stock wil begin Saturday afternoon and will continue until sold out. Mr. Green has not selected quarters for his manufacturing plant at this time. He holds an unexpired lease on his present quarters.

In Manufacturing Field.

Mr. Green recently invented and patented four articles used by wearers of eyeglasses. Some time ago he started manufacturing them, and as the demand increased, he engaged more extensively in the business, opening a workshop in the basement. He now has a force of workmen engaged and is daily increasing the output of his stock. The business has assumed such proportions that his entire time is demanded in attending to it.

One of the principal and most popular of Mr. Green's inventions is an automatic contrivance for holding eyeglasses when not in use. It is a small metal case containing a chain to which the glasses are fastened. The case is pinned to a coat lapel or dress and when the wearer desires to use his glasses, the chain to which the lenses are secured may be pulled out to any desired length. Devices of similar nature have been on the market for some time, but Mr. Green's is smaller, more artistic and has many new features of improvement.

JURIST AGAINST A "THIRD DEGREE"

Professor Declares Practice Ought to Be Abolished

OR ELSE MADE LEGAL

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 20.—The "third degree' must be either abolished or be recognized legally, according to Professor Edward R. Keedy, Northwestern University Law Sshool, who has started of obtaining confessions, basing his argument on the case of Charles and Lillian Conway, arrested for the murder of Sophia Singer. Mrs. Conway confessed that her husband had committed the murder and later Conway, after two days of the "silent treatment," admitted that he had killed the woman.

Professor Keedy's arguments against the use of the "third degree" in any form were published in the Journal of Criminal Law. His article included a criticism of the part newspapers play in publishing the news of criminal cases. The editorial caused some caustic comment from James Markham, secretary of the Detective Bureau, and Professor Keedy went into greater detail of his scheme of reforming the present criminal procedure and answered Mr. Markham's criticism.

"The present methods used by the police of this and other cities in holding and interrogating suspects and giving them the 'third degree' are not recognized in any other country of importance," he said.

"In England, Scottland and France, for instance, the precentage of convictions is as large as here and yet they do not go to the extremes that the police do in this country. In discussing the Conway case I merely mentioned 'sweating of Mrs. Conway. Conway had not confessed at the time my editorial was written. My suggestions for changes are as folows:

"First—Arraign prisoners before an examining magistrate within twenty-four hours of their arrest.

"Second—Revise the rules of evidence to exclude the section which now prevents the admission of what is termed irrelevant testimony

"Third—Allow the trial judge to comment on the testimony given at the hearing.

Fourth—Stop the reversion of verdicts by courts of review on the grounds of inconsequential errors at the trial."

Answering Mr. Markham, Professor Keedy declared that if the police attempted to defend the practice of tempt to have that practice made legal, and be submitted two proposed statutes, one of which declares that the police may "interrogate and question suspects and witnesses by any means short of physical violence," and another of which legally permits newspaper to comment editorially upon the guilt of suspected persons before the trial, if the editors are satisfied of the guilt of the suspect.

"Let us bring this matter to a square issue," said Professor Keedy. "There should be some change in the methods now used, or at least they should be legalized. I contend that the practices of foriegn countries, which would be an improvement upon our methods, do not make for or increase of crime, yet they do protect the rights of those under suspicion."

ISOLATED FROM WIFE, CHILDREN AND WORLD, HE CAN ONLY THINK —WAITING FOR DEATH TO END ALL.

Antonio Volcano, and the little shack in which he and his family lived before he was condemned to his life of solitude on outskirts of Spokane, Wash.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 20.—In an isolated shack on the edge of town, Antonio Volcano, an Italian laborer, is serving a life sentence of solitary confinement. For nearly a year now the withered little man has been serving his time—paying for the sins of his fathers. He is a leper

Antonio Volcano was just a common laborer. All his life he had worked hard—mighty hard—for the minimum wage. But in his own way he was happy. He had the wife and the two dark-eyed children. None of them knew any other life. They were all happy. Then one day the city health officers came and took the hard-working father away and told him he must not have anything to do with his family or with any other human being. The health officials were right, but it was hard on Antonio and the wife, and the two little babes.

Now all day long, Antonio, unable to read, unable to get sufficient exercise, sits and thinks—thinks. There is nothing else he can do, and it is terrible to think when there is no hope. He is denied the joy even of good thoughts. Always there is that grim spectre perched on his shoulder pecking, pecking away his life, hovering over the lives of his two little dark-eyed kiddies. To him every day is a year—a year filled with the torture of a soul in the bottom of the inferno. Antonio is not emotional. The hard life he has lived has no place in it for emotion and the past year has sapped what little there might have been. When there is no hope emotion is an empty thing—just as Antonio is an empty man with an empty—worse than empty future. When he spoke of his babes he stretched out his withered arms, his dim eyes were moist and abruptly he went into his cell shack back to the thought buzzard—his cell-mate.

A specialist in the employ of the government is coming to look at Antonio and arrange to have him taken where he can be taken care of. It won't make a great deal of difference. His life may be dragged out a little longer—the rack given a longer lease on his tortured mind and body

What's the difference when a man has gone through what Antonio has in the past year? He is not afraid to die. Why should he be? It is the thoughts that are warping the soul of Antonio that make him afraid—that will drive him crazy before the unclean thing that is gnawing on him gets to his heart and merciful oblivion is granted him.

LANDS ANOTHER BIG CONTRACT

Bass Company Books Order for Two Rolling Mill Engines.

TWO ACCIDENTS ON THE WABASH

John Hughes and George Sinns Fall from Trains and Are Hurt.

Another contract for big engines was booked by the Bass Foundry and Machine works yesterday. It came through the agency of George T. Ladd, of Pittsburg, and calls for two rolling mills engines, one of 1,200 and the other of 600-horse power capacity, with rope drivers and other appurtenances. Over 150 tons of metal will be involved in the construction of these engines and attachments and the work means a big outlay for skilled and common labor, particularly in the mechanical department. Master Mechanic J. J. Muir is now in the field for a dozen or more machinists who are capable of doing heavy work of this kind. Some time ago the Bass works took a contract to build three immense Corliss engines and the work upon these is just now going through the machine shop.

EIGHTY-FIVE MILES AN HOUR.

Remarkable Performances of Engine in Testing Plant.

A speed of eighty-five miles an hour was attained and maintained by a locomotive in the Pennsylvania railroad's testing plant in Altoona. The locomotive was one of the E-6 type, and was equipped with superheaters. To undergo the test the big iron horse stands on hube rollers, which are controlled by Adler friction brakes. The engineer takes his place in the cab and gradually opens the throttle. But he does not control the speed. The man at the rollers does that. Three times did the big E-6 reach a speed of eighty-five miles an hour and twice it maintained that speed for half an hour. It is considered remarkable, inasmuch as there is not as much give to the rollers in the testing plant as there is to the roadbed of the railroad.

VERY NEAR BAD ACCIDENT.

Paul Hanley Pulled from Beneath Train Just in Time.

As he was hastening to the Pennsylvania shops, where he has charge of the Lafayette street gates, at 6:30 o'clock this morning, Paul Hanley collided with a man who was moving just as rapidly in a southerly direction. Mr. Hanley was thrown down in a dazed condition and but for the prompt action of the man who collided with him, he would have been badly hurt, even if he escaped with his life. Mr. Hanley had just crossed a track upon which some cars were being pushed by a switch engine. Near the crossing, on the adjoining track which he must cross, a switch engine was standing and steam from it obscured the view of the opposite side. Just as he passed through this cloud of steam, he ran against the man coming from the opposite direction. The other man was a powerful fellow and he immediately grabbed and pulled Mr. Hanley out of the way of the moving cars. His only injury is a slightly bruised and sprained hip caused by the fall.

FELL FROM TRAIN.

John Hughes Has Leg Broken at Gar Creek.

John Hughes, of 1383 Oakwood street, Toledo, had both bones of his left leg fractured between the knee and ankle shortly after 6 o'clock last evening, when he fell from a Wabash train at Gar Creek. The injured man was brought here and taken to the Lutheran hospital, where the fractured limb was set by Drs. Tinkham and Kruse. None of the trainmen witnessed the accident, and it was some time after the train had left Gar Creek that the attention of a resident was drawn to him by his cries for assistance. He was taken into a house, the broken limb bandaged and he was then placed upon No. 3 and brought to this city at 9:30 o'clock. Hughes is employed by the Indiana Pipe Line company and had been working at Disko. He came to this city to take a Wabash train for Toledo, where he intended to visit his sister.

GREATEST IN ITS HISTORY.

Was the Payroll of the Wabash for October.

Paymaster George E. Francisco, of the Wabash, disbursed the largest sum in wages on this division of the system yesterday in the history of the company. The total amount was $198,220.24, which was $31,000 more than the greatest previous payroll on the system. Paymaster Francisco made the trip over the system yesterday on a special train and paid in cash in the main, instead of by checks. It is about eight years since the company abolished the special pay car system and adopted the check system.

GAVE INTERESTING LECTURE.

Prof. Frank B. Wade proved to be an interesting talker and his lecture on "Precious Stones" before the Electro-Technic club and a number of guests in the assembly hall at the Fort Wayne Electric works last night was enjoyed by the large audience that heard him. Professor Wade used stereopticon views to illustrate his lecture. "Prevention of Accidents" will be the next subject presented to the Electro-Technic club at a regular meeting. The speaker will be M. W. Alexander, of Lynn, Mass., chairman of the safety committee of the eastern factories of the General Electric company and one of the officers of the Mutual Benefit association at Lynn. Employes of the works, whether members of the Electro-Technic club or not, will be invited to hear this lecture, because of the valuable points of safety matters it will bring out.

INDIANS AT LAND SHOW.

Edwin H. Moot, district passenger agent of the Great Northern railway, who is in the city making his regular calls upon local agents and prospective travelers, says that his company will introduce at the land show in Chicago a feature never before witnessed in that city. Arrangements have been made to establish a camp of Indians, from Glacia Park, Montana, and a corner of the Coliseum has been set aside for that purpose. The redskins will live in tepees and will be surrounded by features that will give a wild west appearance to their camp. There will be fifteen Indians in the party and they will give war dances and do other things common to life at their home in Glacia Park.

PUSHED FROM TRAIN.

George Sinns, a pipeline worker, was found unconscious at the Favorite crossing of the Wabash, west of Huntington, yesterday. He was taken into a farm house and a surgeon summoned to attend him. Sinns had his left wrist and right knee sprained, several teeth knocked out and received cuts and bruises all over his body, but is not dangerously hurt. He was en route to Beaumont, Texas, where he was to take employment, and says that a man with whom he had some trouble some time ago and who held a grudge against him pushed him from the car. In the fall he lost his pocketbook containing $40 and a fine gold ring.

FLORIDA IN 36 HOURS.

Ira F. Schwegel, central passenger agent of the Louisville and Nashville road, while in the city today, completed arrangements for a special car service three times a week between Fort Wayne and Jacksonville, Florida, via the Grand Rapids and Indiana and the L. & N. lines. The special Pullman car will leave here on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and will run through to Jacksonville without change. Returning, it will leave Jacksonville on Wednesdays, Fridays and Sundays, making the trip in each direction in thirty-six hours and starting on November 23. Last year this service was only twice each week.

IN SERVICE AFTER SEVENTY.

The Philadelphia and Reading company has suspended the rule making it compulsory upon an employe to retire after he has attained the age of seventy in the case of James M. Landis. He is chief clerk in the office of the vice president and is of such importance that the company cannot dispense with his service. Being strong and active, both mentally and physically, Mr. Landis did not look with favor upon the idea of being retired and readily agreed to a proposition to continue chief clerk to the department indefinitely.

LIKES FORT WAYNE BEST.

Boilermaker Theodore Schmerber, who resigned a position at the Bass Foundry and Machine works last May and went east, has returned and resumed his old place in the Bass shops, thoroughly convinced that there is no better place on earth than Fort Wayne. During his absence from the city Mr. Schmerber worked in Boston and other big cities and was not in want of a job at any time, but general conditions were not near so good east as in Fort Wayne and he returns here to stay.

DRIVING PILE AT HARRISON.

The Wabash pile driver was brought down to Harrison street yesterday and this morning commenced setting the piling preparatory to taking up the work of building the subway at that point. The agreement with the city board of works was that this work would be done next year, but the Wabash finds it convenient to commence several months in advance.

GONE TO HAMILTON HOSPITAL.

G. Trayne, a fluemaker, who is suffering from rheumatism and erysipelas, has gone to Hamilton, Ohio, to enter a hospital for treatment. He belongs to an association that takes care of its members when they are sick and for this purpose maintains a hospital at Hamilton.

FELL AND HURT HAND.

A sprained, bruised and cut hand will keep Blacksmith Frank V. Miller from the forge in the Pennsylvania shops a few days. The injury was the result of a fall, when Mr. Miller tripped over a piece of iron in the shop yards yesterday.

BOILERS TO KENDALLVILLE.

Two boilers, each with 150 horse power capacity, left the Bass shops today for Kendallville. They were built for the McCray Refrigerator company and will soon be a part of that company's big plant at Kendallville.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Master Mechanic G. W. Smith, of the Wabash, went to Detroit on railway business this morning.

Supt. W. M. Wardrop, of the Pennsylvania, is attending the meeting of the American Railway association in Chicago today.

Machinist C. W. Miller is attending the wedding of his sister today and did not show up for work in the Pennsylvania vise gang.

Division Engineer Guy Scott and Assistant Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton are looking after business for the Pennsylvania in Chicago today.

Grosjean has completed the foundation for the office building of the Bash Fertilizer and Chemical company, on Taylor street, where the big fertilizer plant is being installed, and the foundation for the main factory building will be finished in two weeks. COMBINATION

GERMAN AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK

The word "combination" is not here used in its ordinary, modern, business sense.

It has reference to the happy combination that has made this bank the great success that everyone knows it to have been.

It refers to the fact that the officers are practical and successful bankers, while the directors are practical and successful business men.

That makes a combination mighty hard to beat, especially when the officers and directors all pull together.

This bank also combines the safety of a national bank with the conveniences of a savings bank. It maintains a saving department where interest is paid at the rate of 4 per cent.

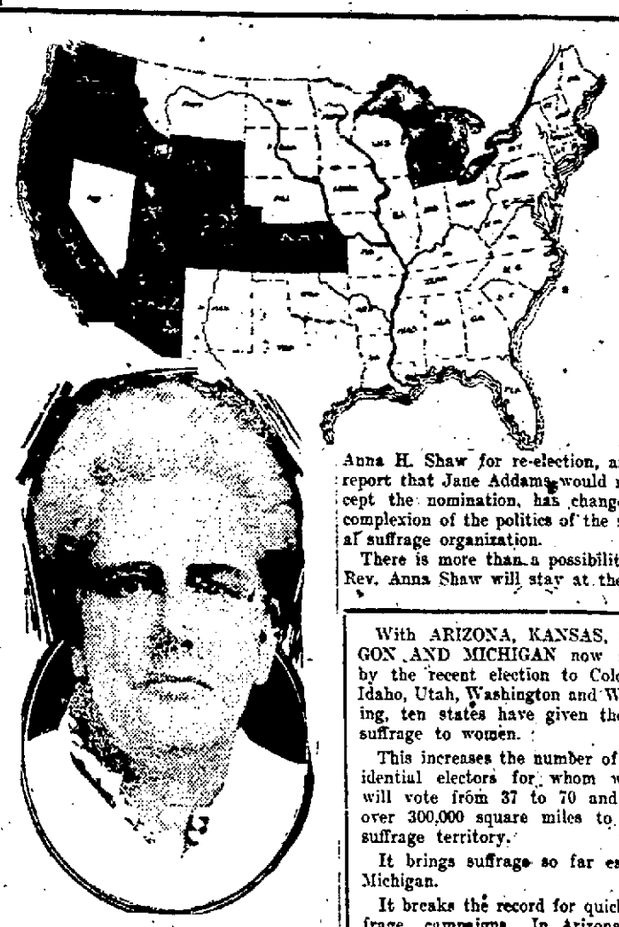
Suffrage Enthusiasts to Celebrate Progress of Crusade for Votes for Women.



EQUAL SUFFRAGE MAP OF U. S. UP TO DATE, AND PORTRAIT OF REV. ANNA HOWARD SHAW, NATIONAL SUFFRAGE PRESIDENT.

Anna H. Shaw for re-election, and the report that Jane Addams would not accept the nomination, has changed the complexion of the politics of the national suffrage organization.

There is more than a possibility that Rev. Anna Shaw will stay at the helm.

With ARIZONA, KANSAS, OREGON AND MICHIGAN now added by the recent election to Colorado, Idaho, Utah, Washington and Wyoming, ten states have given the full suffrage to women.

This increases the number of presidential electors for whom women will vote from 37 to 70 and adds over 300,000 square miles to equal suffrage territory.

It brings suffrage so far east as Michigan.

It breaks the record for quick suffrage campaigns. In Arizona the iniative petition was filed July 5, only four months before the election.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—Here in Witherspoon hall, Philadelphia, the 1912 victories for "equal rights" will be celebrated and a much more extensive campaign will be inaugurated at the forty-fourth annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association, Nov. 21-26.

Women, and men, too, from all parts of America will constitute the representative suffrage audiences at the five-day gathering.

One of the features of the convention will be a monster meeting in Independence square, where addresses will be delivered from six platforms. Among the speakers will probably be the Rev. Anna H. Shaw, national president; Mrs. Harriet Burton Laidlaw, Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, Miss M. Carey Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr college, Miss Harriet May Mills, Mrs. Crystal Eastman Benedict, Mrs. Laura Gregg-Cannon and many other women who have made suffrage their battlecry.

During these outdoor demonstrations Mrs. Charlotte Pierce will read the declaration of rights, issued at the Seneca Falls convention in 1848, at which she was present.

The evening meetings will all be of interest to the public, as people of national reputation will speak, giving their reasons for believing in equal suffrage.

Thursday, Nov. 21, will be campaign evening, Jane Addams, Hull House, Chicago; vice president of the national association, presiding. And the president's address will be delivered by the Rev. Anna H. Shaw.

A men's meeting is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 22, with James Lee Laidlaw presiding. The program will be in charge of the National Men's League for Woman Suffrage. College anti-suffragists and suffragists will furnish the entertainment Saturday evening with a debate. The National College Suffrage league is to have charge and President M. Carey Thomas of Bryn Mawr will preside.

Business sessions will occupy each day of the convention.

The question of the next president of the national organization will be an important issue in the convention. When Roosevelt came out for suffrage and Jane Addams took the stump for him, allying herself prominently with the new progressive party, a general movement to elect Miss Addams to this highest office in the gift of the suffrage workers was started in earnest.

But the outcome of the election; the fact that many friends are backing Rev.

LADY DANDY TO APPEAR.

New Costume Resembles Attire of Eighteenth Century Beau.

London, Nov. 20.—The Lady Dandy is shortly to make her bow. Save for her skirts she will be an exact replica of the beau of the eighteenth century, even to the three-cornered hat.

One of these new costumes seen recently had a coat designed after the fashion of the picturesque beau and also the fancy waistcoat. With this was worn the quaint tricorner hat of black, tilted over one eye in conquettish style, and the long cane completed the picture.

The costume was made of blue velvet, the waistcoat was yellow and the straigh skirt, narrow round the feet, was trimmed with fur.

Women have acquired many little masculine touches in dress ever since man began to wear lace waistcoats, rose du barri ties and lavender socks.

RECOVERS STOLEN BUGGY.

Farmer Finds Buggy Laden With Chickens and Hams.

Elwood Ind., Nov. 20.—Making a horseback chase of thieves, who had stolen his horse and buggy, which had been left standing on a business street here, Martin Gavin, a farmer, finally came upon the outfit hitched near the road close to Perkinsville, twelve miles south of the city. In the buggy had been left three sacks filled with live chickens, which the thieves had stolen, together with several hams, which had evidently been taken from a farmer's smokehouse. The work is thought to have been that of a gang that has been causing trouble here for months and the authorities believe they have a clew which will shortly result in several important arrests.

"Don't get careless." Ask for Haffner's Potato-Loaf Malt or Tip-Top Bread.

DISEASES CAUSE DIVORCE.

Statistics Also Show Mother-in-Law to Blame.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—A card index kept by Judge William N. Gemmill of the court of domestic relations, was tabulated by the judge and shows that men are less reliable than women in the married state and that disease and mothers-in-law are equal in responsibility for wrecked marriages, causing half of them.

Visit Jacobs' Music House for Pianos and Player Pianos

The Jacobs line of Pianos speaks for itself. Actually there is not another line in Fort Wayne or any other City in Indiana to compare with it.

PIANOS

PLAYER-PIANOS

Jacobs' prices are just as attractive as the Jacobs Pianos. In fact one of the reasons that the Jacobs Music House was chosen to represent so many celebrated Pianos and Player-Pianos, was that it sells more instruments than any other exclusive Piano Store in the City, and that enables us to sell at guaranteed lowest prices in the State.

Lowest prices mean volume of business, and the great manufacturers naturally choose as their agent the Stores whose sales are the larger.

If you invest in either a Piano or Player-Piano, you are certain to do one of two things: You will either visit Jacobs Music house, or you will wish you had.

DR. HARDMAN, Specialist

Special Offer Until December 1st

CURES AT YOUR OWN PRICE—Every person who calls on me before Dec. 1st will not only receive a careful and thorough examination FREE OF CHARGE, but absolutely no fee will be charged during that time other than you yourself are willing to pay.

This is of special importance to every person who realizes the value of original methods. What I have claimed in reference to the influence of any Pelvic or Rectal Disease on the sympathetic Nervous System and all reflex conditions is now the accepted theory of the leading scientists.

No man can afford to undertake his daily work without being fully equipped mentally and physically.

I have for over sixteen years made a special study of these CHRONIC conditions and have perfected methods that will positively cure. Do not be deceived or be misled into thinking you can afford to prolong your suffering and misery, for what is a few dollars to be compared with health?

I am making this special offer until Dec. 1st to enable the thousands of sufferers to regain their health and to prove to you that the best is always the cheapest, and my terms are always reasonable considering the fact that when I acept a case I CURE.

I know that success and happiness depend on body and brain vitality. The lack of force is always due to functional decline, to a diseased condition of one or more of the organs of the body, or to a devitalized nervous system. The man who is not right physically and mentally and neglects himself not only limits his future prospects, but is using up the physical capital he has already possessed.

Every man who does less than he should do at his desk, in the shop or on the farm, is weak in some way. I have found that the man who cannot accomplish all he expects or hopes for is often the silent sufferer from some hidden disease that affects one or more of the important nerve centers of the body.

These neglected or unknown conditions are usually diseases of the pelvic organs, which reflexly act on the nervous system, which in turn has its influence on the brain. I have made a special study of the nervous system and have perfected methods that will CURE Pelvic Diseases. I will give you a searching and thorough examination and explain to you the true nature of your trouble.

EXAMINATION—My facilities for examination are unexcelled. I learn the exact condition of the rectum, the bladder and every organ of the genito-urinary system. This in itself is of the highest importance, inasmuch as a broken down nervous system and many or most of the troubles of the stomach, liver and kidneys, etc., are reflex and are the direct results of some pelvic lesion or disease.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN and nearly all nervous diseases are the direct results of chronic or imperfectly treated Pelvic Diseases, such as Varicocele, Piles, Stricture, etc. I not only remove the cause, but my many years of experience in the treatment of nervous and pelvic diseases enable me by my special methods to revitalize the entire nervous system and to restore to perfect health nearly all sufferers from nervous breakdown and vital weakness.

BLOOD POISON—I use only the most advanced methods in the treatment of blood poison and kindred diseases.

PROSTATIC ENLARGEMENT—This may result from a number of causes. The constant jarring and vibration of trains and trolley cars are a very potent cause. Bicycle riding and the use of riding implements on the farm are factors in producing this disease. In fact the causes are so many and varied that fully 75 per cent. of all male adults are afflicted to a greater or lesser extent by this disease. The disease is so little understood, and as one of the principal symptoms is a pain in the back, it is usually called kidney trouble and treated with local applications or sedatives which can do no possible good whatever. I reduce the enlargement and have been able to cure about 90 per cent of all cases.

VARICOCELE—I cure Varicocele in a few days' or weeks' time without the use of the knife.

STRICTURE—I readily remove Stricture by my dissolvent method without the use of instruments.

RUPTURE, PILES, FISTULA, ETC., cured without detention from business and without the use of the knife.

If you live out of town write or write on what train you will arrive and I will arrange my engagements so that I can see you at once.

JONES HELD OFF M'GINNITY-DEAL

President of Western Persuaded Old Pal to Go to Northwestern.

GRAND RAPIDS LOST

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 20.—Last Thursday noon in the lobby of the Pfister hotel in Milwaukee, while the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues was in session, announcement was made by Joe McGinnity to Owner Annis, of the Grand Rapids Central league team, to the effect that the valuation placed upon his franchise and other holdings was satisfactory. The once famous pitcher also promised to leave for Grand Rapids in the afternoon to look the plant over before making payment on the deal.

Arrangements were made for McGinnity and his brother-in-law to start for Grand Rapids accompanied by Annis on a train leaving the Brewery city at 1:50 in the afternoon. Annis was there but the other parties did not put in an appearance. Annis returned to the convention hotel then and learned that McGinnity had changed his mind and about decided to go to the Northwestern league, of which Fielder Jones, former major league star and White Sox manager, is president.

When McGinnity was in his prime he and Jones were teammates on the Brooklyn team. They have always been the warmest kind of friends ever since and Jones' persuasions to his old friend to go west with him apparently won, for the Grand Rapids deal was not made, although it is barely possible that it may yet be made.

Grand Rapids fandom was preparing to welcome McGinnity with open arms, for his diamond deeds are almost as well known here as in major league cities where he played for years.

Frank Kitron, now a prosperous Allegan county fruit grower, a major league star for ten years or more, pitching along with McGinnity on the pennant winning Brooklyn team of the nineties, says Grand Rapids missed a good one when McGinnity was induced to sidestep the franchise purchase. He is of the opinion that a man like McGinnity might make big money here, and that it will take some player of national reputation like him to awaken the fans of Grand Rapids as they should be.

McGinnity recently sold his interest in the Newark team of the International league, and was prepared to buy the Grand Rapids franchise outright. He gave as his reason for selling his Newark holdings that every Tom, Dick and Harry in the town who held any kind of political office, as well as some of the sporting scribes, held up the club by blackmailing methods so that he made up his mind that he would get out of baseball altogether rather than submit to such methods.

Several players of national reputation are at McGinnity's disposal and will go wherever he goes next season.

Bert Annis is none too anxious to sell his Grand Rapids holdings, but when approached by McGinnity named a price which was considerable lower than his actual investment, saying he would like to see a man like McGinnity take hold here. If unable to close with McGinnity he plans on signing up his 1913 men and starting at once to build up a winning team.

YALE IN LAST PRACTICE.

Prepares for Battle With Harvard on Saturday.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 20.—The Yale eleven had its last heavy practice this afternoon in preparation for the Harvard game. Only light work sufficient to keep the men in condition will be given them after today. Most of the work this afternoon was to be behind closed gates. Pumpelly has been practicing steadily at drop kicking under direction of the coaches.

SHOW OLD HEADS THEY DON'T CARE

HE SAYS IT IS BETTER

(Frank R. Ward in Youngstown Vindicator.)

Now that the national association has placed its O. K. on the Interstate league—that circuit that was painfully amputated from the twelve-club Central by Dr. Carson et al.—it is proper season for the magnates to get busy and endeavor to build up a good circuit that will blaze the way for that western organization. The Interstate is starting out with some pretty good material, and with a possible salary limit of $2,500 and class "B" ball there seems to be no reason why the new circuit should not be a substantial and howling success.

While the work of getting two additional cities into the league has hardly begun, it is hoped two reliable towns will be enrolled. The magnates show wisdom in going after Altoona and Johnstown, as both of these cities are on record as having supported ball teams.

There has been considerable talk about the McKeesport proposition. McKeesport may be a good live town, but unless the team is booked in there while the Pirates are on the road, it is not likely success will be anything but fair. McKeesport did not more than support a fast team in the O.-P. a couple of years ago, and there seems to be some doubt of the municipality's ability to handle a class "B" organization.

Fandom does not care particularly what towns the magnates enlist in the new venture so long as the circuit will remain intact for the entire season and play the brand of ball that should be played by class "B" clubs. This thing of going through the latter part of the season lacking several teams has done more to kill minor league ball than anything else, and until this possibility is eliminated substantial support cannot be looked for.

That was a pretty good scheme of the Central to demand a $2,000 cash guarantee that the team would finish the season. It would not be a bad idea if this matter was adopted by the Interstate magnates, as it is nearly a cinch that the clubs will complete their season in order to get back their cool $2,000.

The Interstate will be a decided improvement over the Central in more ways than one. The traveling expenses will not be nearly so great, while the geographical locations of the cities will stir up a brand of rivalry and enthusiasm which should be of assistance to the box office.

Youngstown will have little trouble to hold up her end of the agreement. The local club has some classy material on hand right now, and should be able to step in and show her competitors the way. All the Steelmen need now is a playing manager and the roster will be nearly complete.

ENTIRE TEAM ORDERED OUT.

Harvard Eleven to Meet Yale Will Be Picked This Afternoon.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 20.—The last practice of the Harvard varsity football team that will play Yale at New Haven Saturday was called for this afternoon. The entire team was ordered out and it was expected the eleven men who are to line up against Yale would be definitely selected. The coaches planned to give the eleven half an hour's hard scrimmaging and rehearse, perhaps for the last time, the intricate plays that will be used Saturday.

BROWN MAY BE UMPIRE.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Major league baseball holds another job for Mordecai Brown. Though his days of slab usefulness are ended, according to physical examiners, the result of an accident sustained while running bases on the west side grounds last summer, the three-fingered wizard of former days need not worry about his future in the game. If the deal can be completed Brownie will sit in next season as an umpire in the American league and will be able to earn the same salary that was paid him as a member of the once mighty cubs' machine.

BAKER IS REGARDED IN THE EAST AS THE WORLD'S GREATEST HALF BACK.

"HOBEY" BAKER.

"That Quaker, Baker," is rhythmical; also it's becoming a habit.

It was J. Franklin Baker, a Quaker because of a contract with the Athletics, whose home runs won a pennant for Connie Mack.

And here is another of the name, "Hobey" Baker, whose deeds on the gridiron rank him with Poe, Trenchard, De Witt and other Princeton immortals. He has twice been Horatius at the bridge before an ancient foe.

Last year Sam White scooped a loose football and sped to a Princeton victory. But Baker has twice saved the Tiger this year—once by a great run, again with his educated toe.

If the Salvation army was given the money spent this fall toasting Baker, what a pile of Christmas baskets it would buy the needy!

Baker beat Dartmouth, the eleven that delights in spilling the "big four" all over eastern gridirons. Dartmouth is the sinister nightmare of eastern coaches. Its young men take football as they do "chem" and "lit."

Against Princeton, Dartmouth was a wall. The Tiger could not advance; instead, slowly but surely, it was giving ground to the driving Dartmouth backs.

They lined up on Princeton's 20-yard line. Suddenly, "there goes Baker!" screamed the Princeton rooters, as a blond player darted from the struggling lines. Dartmouth's goal was 80 yards away. Tacklers tried to intercept him but failed. One dove from behind. Baker staggered, but continued. On he went—20, 40, 50 yards. Orange and black pennants waved hysterically.

"Baker!" was the cry.

But ten yards in front of the Dartmouth goal a shock-headed, begrimed giant, his mouth distented in a terrible grin, poised on his toes, straining like a leashed hound, itching to pull down his prey. He lunged, but Baker's twisting dodge was perfectly timed and only futile fingers scraped his moleskins.

An instant later Baker was wiping perspiration from his face, under Dartmouth goal, while the stands rocked with "Baker!" Baker!"

That run through the Dartmouth eleven was one of the greatest in football history. It beat Dartmouth and caused coaches to instruct their charges to "Get Baker."

Yale tried to "get Baker," and failed, but watched him so closely he could not duplicate his brilliant run. But despite the seven pounds per man advantage in weight, Yale could not down the Tigers because Baker broke up their plays at critical times.

Time and again the Princeton quarter—another Baker, by the way—tried to get "Hobey" off on an end run, but the Yale defense would not yield. It did give way to the plunging drives of De Witt, however, and twice was pushed back within kicking distance—and each time, "Hobey" Baker kicked a field goal.

Yale tied the score with field goals. Yale would have won but for Baker. Princeton really deserved to win, and would have but for an error of generalship. Either way you look at it, Baker looms gigantically over both teams. Alone he prevented defeat. Alone he tied the score.

Baker is perhaps the best offensive back in the country. Princeton claims he is and critics who saw him against Dartmouth and Yale, agree.

Not only is he a great gridiron hero, but he shines as a hockey player, swimmer, wrestler, baseball and basket ball player. He is only 22 and does his voting in Philadelphia.

CANDY CROWD TAKES TWO GAMES.

Wolf & Dessauer went down in the first and second games of the series at the Metropolitan alleys but speeded up in the third and took it from the He-Mi-La team. Connelly led the department store men and Jack Kelly fought it out with John Beckes and won by a few points. His score of 229 was high. Scores:

CORBY HALL IS COMING.

A trip made by S. A. Callahan, H. B. Ellenwood and Otto Pohlmeyer to South Bend saved the Corby hall game booked for Thanksgiving at League park. The management was notified yesterday that Corby desired to cancel the game so the players could go to Chicago to see Notre Dame and Marquette play.

KNOWS THE SIDESTEP.

Uncle Horace Fogel may talk a little too much but when he stands from under the trial framed up for him by his compatriots in the National league by selling the Philadelphia club he surely shows himself an artist at sidestepping.

A REAL HITLESS WONDER.

Hats off to Healy, of Denver—Healy, who pitched for the champions of the Western league during the season just ended! Mr. Healy has made a new record and one which, like that of Joe Wood, may stand forever! In 37 games Mr. Healy appeared at bat 82 times and not once did Mr. Healy make a base hit! That's an unprecedented showing. It has occasionally happened that some performer went 15 or 16 games hitless, but never before has any athlete been up 82 times and finished with a batting average of .000. It's the most wonderful thing of the age—reversibly speaking—and lids should be doffed in honor of Mr. Healy. Nobody else ever did it—nobody may ever equal it in future.

COMMITTEE TO MEET.

East Siders to Plan Program for the Winter.

A meeting of the executive committee of the East Side and Maumee River Civic Improvement association will be held tomorrow night for the purpose of mapping out a program to be followed during the winter months.

The committe will name the dates for meetings of the association. It is hoped that every member will attend the first session so that an expression of opinion can be secured on all proposed improvements for the east side of the city.

The association anticipates a very busy season. Until the election, the members found but little time for civic matters. Now that the campaign is over, they are taking up improvement questions with renewed vigor ad earnestness.

He reports that all kinds of business is flourishing in the west and was stirred up little over the election. The election, however, was exceedingly quiet, and in Orangeville, where there are 1,200 voters the vote stood as follows: Wilson, 236; Roosevelt, 35; Taft, 12.

MACK GETS HALF OF CLUB'S STOCK

GOT THE FIRST CHANCE

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—Official announcement has been made by Manager Mack, of the Athletics, that he now owns a half interest in the Athletics, this including stock in the club and in Shibe parks at Twenty-first street and Lehigh avenue.

The deal by which Mr. Mack has doubled his baseball holdings makes him one of the largest owners of baseball stock in the major leagues. Connie secured his additional stock from Frank L. Hough and Samuel H. Jones, who have been directors of the Athletics since 1902.

In announcing the deal Mr. Mack said: "The proposition to sell out their interests in the club by Messrs. Jones and Hough was made some time ago, and it did not take long for us to come to an agreement as to what their shares were worth. They disposed of their stock in the club as well as in the ball park, to me, so that I now have a one-half interest in each. How much money was involved in the deal I would not care to state."

The deal makes the Shibes and Manager Mack the sole owners of the Athletics. President B. F. Shibe, who with his sons, Thomas and John, own 50 per cnt. of the stock of the club and the ball park, is well pleased that, as Directors Hough and Jones had decided to retire, Connie secured their holdings.

Ever since the club was organized President Shibe and Mr. Mack have worked for the good of the American league here without slightest friction.

When Hough and Jones decided to sell out, President Shibe made no efforts to get any of the stock. "Uncle Ben" made it one of his ironclad rules when he consented to become a magnate in 1901 that he would not own more than 50 per cent. of the stock. He is said to consider that no one had a better right to purchase the stock than the man who had spent so many years in bringing championships to Philadelphia.

Manager Mack set at rest some reports that have been in circulation about his players.

"When in the west last week," said Connie, "I saw in newspapers that Manager Callahan, of the Chicago club, was trying to purchase the release of Bender and Oldring, or to induce me to make a trade for these men. I desire to retain both of these players for next year."

EVANSVILLE HAS BEEN PASSED UP

Stahlhefer Says There is No Chance to Break Into the Central.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 20.—Evansville's chance of getting into the Central league in 1913 is slim, according to Harry Stahlhefer, who represented the Evansville baseball club at the Milwaukee meeting. The situation looks practically hopeless.

In behalf of Evansville, Stahlhefer made application for a berth in the Central league. He was met with the answer that Evansville cannot come in until an eighth city of 50,000 population is found to fill out the circuit. Investigation showed that Bay City and Saginaw would stay in the Southern Michigan league while Danville will stick to the Three-I circuit. Unless Evansville can find a companion city willing to go into the Central or can buy a franchise from South Bend or Terre Haute, the probability of getting back into the Central next year is thought by Stahlhefer to be unlikely.

SCHOOL CLOSES.

Fear Spread of Diphtheria in Pleasant Township.

Because all of the children of school No. 6, in Pleasant township, have been exposed to diphtheria the school has been ordered closed by Superintendent Henry G. Felger. It was learned yesterday that two children of the Reilly family, one of whom had been attending school, died from the disease, and now an epidemic is feared. The school will remain closed for a week.

Whether You Like Him or Not You Must Admire Harry Lord for the Heart in Him.

It isn't hard to find men who insist that Harry Lord, captain of the Chicago White Sox, is a "crab." He is heartily disliked by many people, albeit he boasts a wide circle of friends.

But whether friendly or unfriendly, everyone must take off his hat to the pugnacious field leader of the White Sox now.

Lord lives in Maine, and fox chasing is one of his winter diversions. He owns a famous hound, "Kezar Spot," and when he found the animal bleeding to death from a bullet wound, but gamely following the trail of a fox, Lord threw everything aside, picked up the grand old dog, bound up his wound and wrapping him in blankets and robes, dashed cross country in his automobile from Scarboro to Portland at break-neck speed to the office of a veterinary surgeon, arriving just in time to prevent the dog bleeding to death.

Lord would give considerable to know who shot the dog, which he values at $200, to say nothing of the sentiment born from long association and hard work together running down the sly chicken thieves which infest the country around his home.

No COME-BACK When S.S.S. Cures

There is no "come back" when S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison because this great blood remedy so thoroughly cleanses the circulation that not a particle of the old virus is left. After the blood has been purified by S. S. S., this vital fluid is as free from infection as it was before the disease was contracted. One reason why S. S. S. is so successful in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison is that this medicine strengthens and builds up the stomach and digestive members while it is purifying the blood. Thus all the systemic strength is left to assist in the elimination of the virus. S. S. S. is the one certain cure for this powerful blood disorder. This claim is not based upon the treatment of a few cases here and there, but its success extends over a period of more than forty years. During this time thousands upon thousands have found a cure by the use of this great remedy and all were willing to testify that there was no "come-back" after S. S. S. had driven the virus out. S. S. S. does not contain a particle of harmful mineral; it can be used with perfect safety by any one. Home Treatment Book and any medical advice free to all.

WOLGAST ADMITS HE IS NOT AS GOOD AS HE WAS A YEAR AGO BUT HE SAYS HE WILL GO DOWN IN THE RING FIGHTING TO LAST.

"Ritchie is Afraid of Me," He Declares in Interview Just Before Starting to Train for Fight with Boy Whom Experts Say Has An Even Chance to Down Him.

San Francisco, Nov. 20.—A bandaged hand beckoned the interviewer into the room. In a chair sat a little German boy with his feet elevated on a box, nursing two damaged fists, sustained during a recent gymnasium tryout.

The boy was Ad Wolgast, world's lightweight champion. Thanksgiving day on the outskirts of San Francisco he'll defend his title from Willie Ritchie, the best fighter and boxer he has met since he took the title from Battling Nelson almost three years ago.

He brought his feet down to the floor and spoke slowly and carefully:

"I am not going to be champion of the world forever. Even now I am not the same fighter I was a year ago. It would be foolish to say I am. I never kid myself. We might as well look at it squarely and honestly. I will probably never be as good again as I was a year ago—just before that operation for appendicitis.

"Some day I am going up against a fellow who will take my title away from me."

Wolgast stopped talking a moment, stuck his jaw out pugnaciously, uppercut the air with a bandaged mitt and remarked grimly:

"But you can bet your last cent that I will go down fighting. The winner will earn what he gets alright, and furthermore, I haven't yet seen the fellow who can down me."

Pretty soon Wolgast is going on a round the world tour. He will probably fight his way around, unless he's licked before, and after that there still will be a few hundred acre ranch in Michigan, all nicely stocked, not to mention a few thousand dollars in the bank, together with quite a few profitable investments.

The farm life appeals to the little German. In this respect he is much like Jim Jeffries, who was most at home on a farm, clad in overalls, or roaming the field with only a shotgun and his hunting dog for company. And perhaps it is this love of the outdoor life that has had much to do with the friendship that sprang up between the ex-champion heavyweight and the present champion lightweight.

"To my mind," added the champion, "a title holder is the fellow who can lick everyone else. I would rather be beaten than feel that there was anyone I didn't dare to climb into the ring with. A lot of these champions nowadays grab the title by some hook or crook; then crawl away and hide with it. I've never picked soft ones, and what's more, I never will."

Wolgast lapsed into silence again, and when urged to talk about Ritchie, he told calmly and without hesitation, his opinion of the boy whom experts declare has an even chance to grab the title from him.

"Ritchie is afraid of me. He gave me a hard fight when I was sick and convalescent from a big operation. He will find it different now. But anyhow, if I were sure that Ritchie could beat me, I would meet him just the same."

"And," he concluded, "whichever way it turns, Ritchie is going to have plenty of evidence that he's been in a real fight."

Ad Wolgast and his wife, once his classmate during his school days, and two residents of a California mountain ranch—the farm life appeals to the world's champion, and it's the life he'll lead when he's whipped.

RESUME STEEL EVIDENCE.

Dissolution Suit Again Taken Up at Washington.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The taking of testimony before Examiner Henry P. Brown in the dissolution suit of the government against the United States Steel corporation was resumed here today. Adjournment was taken yesterday to allow the attorneys to argue today before the circuit judges at Philadelphia over the admissibility of testimony of Dr. Francis Walker, deputy commissioner of corporations.

R. V. Lindabury, attorney for the Steel corporation, stated at the opening of the examination today that upon arrival in Philadelphia it had been learned the judges had adjourned court until Dec. 2. An agreement was entered into to continue taking testimony, which would be subject to objection. Mr. Walker resumed the stand here, and was questioned further regarding his charts of price changes in steel products.

One of Switzerland's noted glaciers, that of Saleinez, has fallen a victim to commercialism. Since the opening of the Great St. Bernard railroad it has been found worth while to quarry the glacier and sell the ice. First it is blasted with dynamite and then the blocks are shot down an incline plane, almost a mile and a half in length, to the bottom of the valley.

ELEVEN UNION HEADS ACCUSED

Witness Says They Were Present When Dynamiting Was Planned.

RYAN AMONG NUMBER

Indianapolis, Nov. 20.—Eleven officials of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers were accused by Patrick J. Dugan at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today of having been present when blowing up non-union jobs was discussed.

Dugan, former treasurer of a local union, testified that shortly after a building in Detroit was dynamited in June, 1907, the union officials held a caucus over the election of officers. At that time, the witness said, Herbert S. Hockin announced he had lost his position on account of having induced Ortie E. McManigal to blow up the Detroit job. Hockin said because of this he ought to be given a place on the executive board, said Dugan. "He said he was going to make his campaign for office on the strength of the Detroit job."

Dugan said President Frank M. Ryan and ten other officers were present.

Dugan testified an Indianapolis local union had destroyed a non-union job for $25 and when it was learned the international union was paying $200 for each job blown up complaint was made to J. J. McNamara.

McNamara replied people were learning too much about the explosions," said Dugan. "He said District Attorney Wm. T. Jerome in New York had learned the iron workers' union was behind the dynamiting jobs in the east and they would have to be careful."

That while J. J. McNamara was in jail in Los Angeles and before he pleaded guilty an effort was made by iron workers in Indianapolis to buy certain papers was testified by Mrs. Mary E. Carroll. Mrs. Carroll said Fred Sherman, an iron workers' business agent, offered her $100 to procure a receipt in the possession of Dugan. Dugan had said the receipt was for $25 paid for destroying a non-union bridge.

Mrs. Carroll said on the promise of getting $100 for the paper she went to Dugan's home and attempted to induce Mrs. Dugan to give it up, but Mrs. Dugan refused.

EVOLVE A NEW PROTEST PLAN

South Siders Incensed at Poor Street Railway Service.

LIGHTS AS WEAPON

Directors of the Sixth Ward Civic Improvement association, in a meeting held last evening at the home of A. A. Ringwalt, on Nuttman avenue, considered at some length a suggestion that patronage of the municipal lighting plant be urged as a protest against the poor street railway service which has been furnished to south siders by the company supplying traction light and power.

Want Street Improvement.

The Sixth Ward association sees many chances for improvement in its section of the city, and in view of this fact, the following resolutions were adopted at the meeting:

"Whereas the intersection of Broadway and Taylor street is a dangerous one, and has been the cause of many accidents,

"Resolved, That the intersection of Broadway and Taylor street be improved by adding to the width of Broadway at the southeast corner of Broadway and Taylor street."

Another resolution adopted by the association follows:

"Whereas, the extension of Beaver avenue to Broadway is a much needed improvement and one which will be of great convenience to the south side,

"Resolved, That the Sixth Ward association heartily approve of the extension of Broadway to Beaver avenue, as outlined by the park board."

WAS CINCINNATI WOMAN.

Victim of Murder in Chicago Hotel Was Mrs. Emma Kraft.

Cincinnati, Nov. 20.—According to the postoffice authorities the woman who was murdered in a hotel at Chicago last Thursday has been identified as Mrs. Emma Kraft, a Cincinnati woman.

Mrs. Kraft, who was 60 years old, recently sold two pieces of property, and it is believed she was lured to Chicago for the purpose of robbing her of the money derived from these sales. Identification was made by her niece from the clothing worn by the woman and a picture taken after the woman had been murdered.

The police are looking for a man to whom Mrs. Kraft loaned $500 following the sale of the property. The man lives in Cincinnati, but all trace of him has been lost.

RICKETTS AFTER HIS WIFE.

Ernest Ricketts has sent out warning to anybody who may be harboring his wife, Lillian, said to have been kidnaped from Fort Wayne, and is also offering a liberal reward for the apprehension of the man she is supposed to have gone with This information was received in a circular received at police headquarters today.

COURT ORDERS VENIRE QUASHED

Unexpected Action Taken in Cash Register Prosecution.

AFTER A CONFERENCE

Cincinnati, Nov. 20.—Following a long conference between Judge Hollister, United States District Attorney McPherson and attorneys for the National Cash Register company, the court announced that the venire drawn last night for prospective jurymen to try the case against the company for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, was ordered quashed. A recess to this afternoon was taken. No reason for the dismissal was given.

With eleven tentative jurors selected when the United States district court opened today, it was expected that a jury to try John H. Patterson and 29 other officials and former officials of the National Cash Register company would be completed before noon today. One man of the first venire of 36 remained to be examined as to his eligibility to serve as a juror and special venire of 36 was in court ready for examination.

GOT ANOTHER FARRELL.

Third of Three Brothers Shot by Policeman in Few Months.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Irving Farrell, 23 years old, was shot and instantly killed by Policeman John Honan while resisting arrest in the basement of the Farrell home early today.

Farrell was the third of three brothers to be shot by policemen within five months and the second to be slain. His brother Earl was killed by Policeman Williams, colored, on June 23 after he and several companions had attacked the officer. Another brother, Edward, was shot at the time but not seriously wounded. Edward was to have been placed on trial in the criminal court today for setting fire to a newspaper wagon during the newspaper strike here. Irving Farrell was trying to escape from Policeman Honan after, it was said, he had hurled a stone through a saloon window. Honan witnessed the breaking of the window and went to arrest Farrell, who ran and took refuge in the basement. He was followed by Honan, who fired the fatal shot when members of the Farrell family are said to have come to the rescue of the man.

WAS A MOTLEY ARRAY.

Almost a Score of Drunks and Vags Picked Up Last Night.

The city court room was thronged this morning with a formidable array of down-and-out drunks and vagrants. Judge Mungovan gave several of them chances to reform or get out of town and the rest were sent to jail.

Ralph Schneider and Henry Dunlap, the two men charged with forgery, waived preliminary hearing and were bound over to the circuit court. Their bonds were reduced from $1,000 to $500.

James Daly, James Mullen and Joseph Kelley, three vags who have been wandering around the streets and hanging out at saloons, were sent to jail for fifteen days.

William Aldrich and Dan Ellis each got $1 and costs for being drunk. They have been working on the Wabash elevation work, and Judge Mungovan seldom excuses any of that bunch when they face him. Frank Young, Steve Hickson, Barney McMullen and Jack Lynch, all drunks, drew fines of $1 and costs apiece.

Pat McCarty, aged 74 years, came here from Grand Rapids yesterday to have a good time. He had a good time all right, but it wasn't so funny this morning. Judge Mungovan continued his case until Saturday morning.

Seven others up on charges of public intoxication were discharged.

Carl Woodworth, of Wheeling, W. Va., is in the city for the Scottish Rite convocation. Mr. Woodworth is assistant to the superintendent of motive power of the B. & O. railroad.

BEAUTY MERELY BUSINESS; ANY GIRL CAN BE PRETTY, SAYS MAUDE FEALY.

MAUDE FEALY

Miss Maude Fealy, winner of the 1,000 franc prize awarded some time ago in Paris by Le Figaro Illustre in its international beauty contest, has some decided ideas about beauty.

"Fine eyes, clear skin, regular features and a graceful figure are the physical demonstrations of a healthy mind and a healthy body. A woman possessing these things is beautiful," she says.

"The acquisition of beauty is a business. An ugly woman can go about getting beauty just as a good business man goes about getting customers, but unless the seeker for beauty is willing to cultivate good nature, kindliness and cheerfulness she might as well give up the job of trying to be beautiful. Anger, fear, jealousy are foes to good looks. These things cloud the skin, dim the eyes and harden the mouth. Self-control, strong will, strong nerves and common sense are the fundamental factors of beauty.

"A catty woman is never beautiful. She may inherit good features and the fine health that gives clear eyes and a smooth skin, but sooner or later these things skip out and leave her a dried up, withered, unlovable thing.

"Becoming dress is a big factor in the acquisition of beauty. A business woman attired in a simple tailor suit and trim hat will stand a better chance of being considered good looking than her frowsy sister with a lot of cheap lace grimcracks hanging about her.

"The trouble with most women in regard to dress is that they always follow in the wake of some woman famed for her beauty and distinction in attire. Such a woman may be tall and slender. When she costumes her graceful figure in soft, clinging draperies and wears a big wide-brimmed hat, you can depend upon it that short, fat Mrs. Jones will appear on the scene immediately with her dumpy little body wrapped likewise.

"A woman in the quest of beauty must cultivate individuality. She must find what is most becoming to her particular type and then stay by that."

HER HAT IN PERIL AS GOAT CHEWS IT

Woman Threatens to Bring Suit Against City of New York.

OVER THE EPISODE

New York, Nov. 18.—Mrs. E. B G., of Norwich, Conn., will bring action against New York city for recovery of the value of the following articles: Three yards of purple velvet ribbon, one artificial tulip, bunch of wax cherries and other minor articles, appurtenances of and embellishments to a beautiful fall creation adorning the head of Mrs. E. B. G., until removed by one Dolly, Angora doe, stopping at the Angora goat enclosure in Central park.

William Snyder, animal keeper in the park, says that the city may bring a misdemeanor charge against Mrs. E. G. B. for violating the park rule which forbids visitors to feed the animals. Dolly has nothing to say, but has a satisfied well fed look and a swelling below the waist line.

Mrs. E. B. G.—she refused to identify herself further—was in the park with a friend. She had her camera and a handbag, which revealed her initials and home address, and her head was adorned with the most perfect creation which ever left Norwich. Her friend thought that the goat enclosure, with all the cute little Angoras looking on, would be just the very loveliest place for a background, and she posed herself accordingly. Dolly eyed the proceedings with increased approval as she saw that Mrs. E. B. G. was standing up so straight that her head was thrown backward over the low stone wall, bringing the luxurious headpiece close to the bars of the enclosure.

Yes, she could reach it, and she did. First nibbling gently, so that it couldn't be felt, then a little stronger, until just as the camera snapped she raised the hat from its anchorage.

Mr. Snyder exerted his best efforts as a diplomatist, but diplomacy cannot restore a fall hat. So what was the use? The owner will sue the city—she said so. Mrs. E. B. G. and her friend said positively that the picture taken at the crucial moment would not be available for publication.

RARE BOOKS EASY TO SELL TO WOMEN

"Like Taking Candy from a Baby" Says Court Witness.

SAYS ITS "SOFT" JOB

New York, Nov. 18.—"Like taking candy from a fat baby" is the way one witness before Judge Hunt and a jury in the federal district court described the ease with which wealthy women, whose fad is editions de luxe, are induced to part with their money.

The case on hearing was that of Mrs. Emma W. Bird, a wealthy widow, of Salt Lake city, against John V. Coggey, as receiver for the Kellar-Farmer company, to recover $47,850 which she asserts she was induced to pay for books represented to her to be rare and valuable. She alleges that reputable publishing houses have since informed her these books are practically worthless.

Mrs. Bird testified that Glen Farmer, who induced her to buy the books, which included an autograph set of Roosevelt's works, a set of Oscar Wilde, a set of Carlysle and the entire library of a Denver book lover, was introduced to her by a one time governor of Utah. Because of this she reposed complete confidence in him.

Some of the books she bought at a cost of $17,200 she was told she could resell to a wealthy bibliophile at a large profit.

The witness who told the judge and jury how easy it was to sell "editions de luxe" to wealthy women was Irving A. Nimroff, who had been employed in the offices of James J. Farmer and the Anglo-American Authors' association, at 225 Fifth avenue. He became involved in a heated argument with Isaac Weil, one of the attorneys for the defense, and was admonished by the court when he offered to punch Mr. Wiel's face during recess.

Nimroff caused considerable hilarity in the court room when he testified that Glen Farmer had told him of posing as a cripple in order to sell a set of books to a wealthy woman named Stackpole, residing in Harrisburg.

"Farmer said he tied himself up in bandages and went to her home on crutches in order to excite her sympathy. He told the woman, he said, that he had been in an automobile accident and that another man who was with him at the time had been killed," said Nimroff.

RULES OF HEALTH INDORSED.

Six Hours' Sleep Suffice Busy Canadian Commissioner.

London, Nov. 20.—"I thoroughly indorse Frederick Harrison's five golden rules of Health, and consider them to contain excellent advice," said Lord Strathcona, the high commissioner of Canada, recently. "Let me see," he said. "Mr. Harrison is 81 years old. Oh, he is quite a young man. I am eleven years his senior and still young. Why, my memory is as good today as it was fifty years ago."

Speaking of Mr. Harrison's golden rules. "They are excellent," said Lord Strathcona. "Personally I haven't smoked within the last seventy years and do not believe in smoking. I certainly think that people eat too much, and that it may be injurious to them to do so. For many years I have only had two meals a day—breakfast and dinner.

"As for sleep, I make a point of not sleeping longer than six hours a day, as against Mr. Harrison's eight hours. I find that six hours are enough for me."

FOLLOWS MASTER TO CELDL.

"Rover" Refuses to Leave When Owner Is Arrested.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—A dog's love for his master, resulted in the animal being placed under arrest and locked in the same cell with his master. When Thomas Gallagher was arrested in his home at 70 Harmon Place by Detective Sullivan, Rover, his fox terrier, went with him to the police station. Boldly the dog followed his master and the latter's captor into the station. Gallagher was taken to the cell room and the heavy barred iron door slammed in the face of the animal. The dog then began a series of loud cries. Three times he was driven away from the door, but each time he returned. Finally Sergt. John Conley ordered the lockup keeper to take the animal into custody and place him in the cell with his master. Gallagher was arrested on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a child.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Wheat today reflected weakness at Liverpool and went to a new low level for this year's crop. May started at 89⅝c to 90½c, rallied to 90⅝c and then fell back to 90¼c.
The close, however, was firm, with May ⅛c net higher at 90⅜@90¼c.
Belief that the corn market had been oversold helped that cereal to rally. May opened at 47c to 47¼c and rebounded to 47⅜@48½c. Lightness of country offerings made oats firm. May, which started at 32@32⅛c, rose to 32¼@32⅜c.
The close was at 47⅜c for May, ¼@⅜c above last night.
Packers buying carried provisions upward. First sales, with January, were $19.10 for pork, $10.77½ to $10.82½ for lard and $10.20 to $10.22½ for ribs.

DEATH SENTENCE ON NOVEMBER 26

was temporate and had served one jail sentence.
"Gyp the Blood" was recorded as Harry Horowitz, a clerk, 24 years old, a native of New York city, married and temperate.
The state's informers, Rose, Vallon, Webber and Schepps, who have been held in prison during the trial, probably will be released this afternoon. The district attorney agreed today that there was no further need of keeping them behind the bars. It is thought they will leave the city. Wm. Shapiro, driver of the "murder car" and jointly indicted with the gun men and Becker, also will go free. In return for his testimony for the state, the district attorney's office will move that the indictment against him be quashed.
Of the seven indicted for the Rosenthal murder this leaves but one defendant to be tried. He is Jack Sullivan, "King of the Newsboys."

tions at Tchatalja are officially declared untrue by the Bulgarian war office today.
This is the only information given out thus far in regard to the three days' operations of the Bulgarian army before Constantinople, with the exception of yesterday's announcement that the armies had been engaged at the advanced points of the line.
Regarding the situation at Adrianople official accounts state that the Turkish troops attempted to break through Bulgarian investing lines were repulsed on Monday with heavy losses after a battle lasting the whole day. They were compelled to retire to the fortress.
From Dedeaghatch, on the Aegean sea, it is reported that two battalions of Turkish troops posted on the heights to the north were routed by the Bulgarians. The Turks fled leaving a train filled with provisions, ammunition and horses.

THE TURKISH VERSION.

Nazim Pasha Declares Bulgarians Withdrew, Leaving Many Dead.

Constantinople, Nov. 20.—The position at the Tchatalja lines was described by Nazim Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, in a telegram to the Turkish war office, timed 12:15 p. m. today, as follows:
"Reports received at this moment state that the enemy facing our left wing withdrew completely last night in the direction of the slopes of Papaz Burgas. Our reconnoitering parties counted over 500 dead Bulgarians on the slopes in the environments of Tchatalja railroad station. From their epaulets it was established that the dead soldiers belonged to the first infantry regiment of Sofia. A number of rifles, caps and officers' swords were brought in by our troops.
"According to statements made by Bulgarian prisoners the enemy has been without food for three days and is retreating. The Bulgarians were unable to carry away all their wounded.
"The morale of our troops is very good."
A wireless dispatch from the commander of the Turkish battleship Torgut Reis, timed 1:00 a. m., Nov. 20, reports that a Turkish detachment operating from Derkos, aided by the fire of the ships' guns, drove back the Bulgarians in the direction of Ormanli and Karaburan for a distance of ten miles.

DIDN'T SURRENDER; FLED.

Belgrade, Servia, Nov. 20.—According to the latest reports from Monastir the Turkish garrison did not surrender, but fled in all directions, leaving a large amount of war material behind.
After the terrific battle which preceded the fall of the city, most of the Turkish soldiers fled in the direction of Florina, fifteen miles to the southeast, pursued by the Servian cavalry.
The Turks lost twenty thousand killed and wounded in the battle and the Servian casualties were also very heavy.

BATLE OVER A RAILROAD TRAIN

down the hillsides toward the wreck, not knowing of the presence of 24 rural guards in one of the cars on the way to the capital from Manzanillo.
The rural guards took up positions and held the rebels off. The fight around the wrecked train lasted about an hour, when the rebels retreated to the hills. Besides the four soldiers and two passengers killed several others were slightly injured. It is not known how many casualties were sustained by the rebels.
The presence of the rural guards no doubt prevented the robbery of the train and possibly the slaughter of the passengers.
Eight small encounters in various parts of the republic were reported today and in each case the government troops claimed the victory. The rebels are showing increased activity in northern Durango while the Zapatista movement in the south continues unchanged.

DIVORCE LESS EASY IN RENO.

New Legislature Will Fix One Year's Residence.

Reno, Nev., Nov. 20.—Nevada has elected an anti-divorce legislature, and when the session opens in January, an amendment to the present lax divorce measure will be presented, fixing the period of residence at one year.
The divorce advocates suffered their greatest defeat in Reno, the heart of the divorce center, when W. D. Jones, father of the celebrated time-lock divorce law, was overwhelmingly defeated for state senator.

DENTIST

First-Class Dental Work at a Reasonable Price.

When teeth are so far decayed that they cannot be filled they can be restored to usefulness, beauty and durability by the porcelain crown system. PorecIain work is one of the most beautiful operations in dentistry. It is a process of crowning teeth and matching the natural teeth so closely in shape and color that the work is imperceptible. Crowns of porcelain are so useful and comfortable to the wearer that it is soon forgotten that they are different from one's own teeth. It is astonishing to see how many roots and teeth that are considered worthless can be thus made good, comfortable teeth. Porcelain work and its several improvements when rightly performed, scientific, artistic and practical—it is the true dental fine art—and covers a large number of cases.

Call or phone 2055 for appointment and have an examination made of your teeth. Find what is required to put them in first-class condition. No charge for this.

My office is located at 915 Calhoun street, over App's shoe store. Sign reads: J. C. Lehman, Dentist.

COL. ROOSEVELT OPPOSES FUSION

No Combines With Old Parties, Says Progressive Chieftain.

WILL KEEP OUT OF IT

New York, Nov. 20.—Theodore Roosevelt and Oscar S. Straus addressed a general conference of progressive party state leaders yesterday. It was Col. Roosevelt's first speech since the election. He said:

"There have been times when it was expressed that we were merely a bolting faction of one of the parties and would attempt to fuse again with that party. We will not.

"In this party organization of ours ex-democrats and ex-republicans stand alike.

"Both of the old parties represented the same privilege and both of them stand on the vital issues of the day shoulder to shoulder, side by side, and it is our business to show the people that they are simply deluded when they are privileged to vote under either of the old parties. It does not make any real difference which they vote for as long as they continue in either of the old parties; they are casting their votes against their own interests and for the perpetuation of the combination between privilege in politics and privilege in business."

Bars Legislative Combine.

Col. Roosevelt declared he was in the ranks as a man and not as a leader. He hoped that in no legislative assembly would there be any submission to either of the old parties if they desired to combine with men of the progressive party.

"I hope we will make it plain to the people," he said, "that it is up to the old parties to combine against us; and our representatives in the state legislatures and in congress are not going to enter into any deal of any degree for personal advantage with either of the old parties. Let them do that work.

"I further earnestly hope that in this state, in all other states, in congress, the men elected senators and assemblymen will at the earliest possible date introduce bills embodying all the principles in our progressive platform and fight as hard as they know how to have these bills enacted into laws."

LOTHARIO OF 80 PAYS "MY FAWN"

Costs Aged Illinois Man $5,600 for Failure to Marry.

BEGRUDGES THE CASH

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Several varieties of wedding gowns, an assorted collection of more or less passionate letters in which the favorite term of endearment was "my fawn," and several candy hearts bearing fervent inscriptions of love, were the indirect reasons why Martin Hulsey, a Grundy county farmer, was forced to pay $5,614.80 to Miss Cora Frost yesterday.

Miss Frost, superintendent of the Evansville Conservatory of Health, got a judgment of $5,500 against Hulsey, who is 80 years old, in a breach of promise suit in Morris. She declared she loved him dearly.

The aged farmer paid the amount grudgingly and demanded receipts bearing the official seal of Grundy county. He declared the suit was a "skin game and a frame-up," and that he might as well have thrown the money into the drainage canal.

Miss Frost, on the witness stand, declared that Hulsey's age did not affect her love. Witnesses swore that Hulsey showed much affection for the plaintiff, who is in the 40s. She introduced wedding gowns which she said she purchased on different occasions, as Hulsey was always urging her to buy new ones. Candy hearts mottoed with "I love you," "We will be married," "We will be happy," etc., were also introduced.

Miss Frost refused to discuss the case last night.
